PADEREWSKI DIES; LED POLES

ARM, BUT AVOID ENTRY IN WAR, HOOVER URGES

Warns on Spread of Communist Rule.

The argument that America should enter the war to bring the so-called four freedoms to mankind is a gargantuan jest, former President Herbert Hoover said last night in a speech in Chicago over a nation-wide radio hookup. He said this nation's entry into the war would give Stalin opportunity to strengthen his communistic grip upon the world.

Herbert Hoover.

"In the last seven days," Hoover said, "that call to sacrifice American boys for an ideal has been made as a sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal. For now we find ourselves promising aid to Stalin and his militant communist conspiracy against the whole democratic ideals of the world."

He said the Nazis cannot threaten the United States for a long time, after the exhaustion of the war. And if the nation is prepared, he said, Germans never will think of coming to American shores.

Offers 7 Point Plan.

Hoover said the United States can do more for Great Britain by staying out of the war and concentrating on the task of arming the British. Moreover, he said, American participation in the war would mean a national debt equal to half the national wealth and would bring inflation that would ruin the saving classes.

He offered a seven point program for America:

1. Give every aid to Britain and China, but keep American boys out of the war zone.
2. Arm to the teeth for defense of the western hemisphere.
3. Uphold congress in its responsibility to determine peace or war.
4. Stop the notion of ideological war to impose the four freedoms upon other nations against their will.
5. Improve the four freedoms within the nation.
6. Remain strong enough to promote a just and permanent peace.
7. Prepare a new concept of human relations.

Congress Has Sole Authority.

The following are other highlights of Mr. Hoover's address:

"There are those who argue that we are already in this war. The Constitution of the United States provides that congress has the sole authority to declare war. It is equally their responsibility to see that this country does not go to war until they have authorized it.

"The only reason for not submitting the matter to the congress would be that congress could not be trusted. Or that the people, thru them, should not be allowed a voice. No President in a democracy should take that responsibility, for there will be no unity of spirit in an executive war. If congress decides to go to war, then we willingly give all and we willingly surrender all our freedoms necessary to win that war. And until congress shall by constitutional action declare war, no man in America may demand the end of debate on this issue of peace or war.

Opposition to War Growing.

"In these six weeks, opposition against joining in this war has grown stronger in the American people. Yet we have moved officially nearer to war. . . .

"Let me add a word upon Britain's magnificent defense to those who say Britain is lost. She has not lost a square yard of her empire. She has managed to maintain an extraordinary portion of her exports of manufactured goods over the seven seas with all the labor and raw materials that implies.

"She still draws a large part of her food supplies by long voyages to the southern hemisphere. She has apparently not found the need to concentrate her lifeline on North America, which was done to economize shipping in the last war. She is by no means in the extremity of a siege. The war between Hitler and Stalin relieves her of immediate pressures. . . .

"Hitler today occupies or controls all the continent of Europe outside Russia. Unlike the last war, there is no arena of land operations. His whole strength would need to be

FAMED PIANIST, PATRIOT, VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

New York, June 29 [Special].—Ignace Jan Paderewski, world famous musician and Polish patriot, died tonight of pneumonia in his suite at the Hotel Buckingham. He was 80 years old. Oxygen was administered, but his heart failed under the strain. He had been gravely ill since Friday.

With him when he died was a sister, Madame Antonia Wilkonska; his doctor, his aid, Sylvian Starackacz, and his secretary, L. Kollopaola.

The illness of the pianist was attributable to his intense and ceaseless interest in Polish affairs. Against the advice of those close to him, he attended a meeting of the association of Polish War Veterans in Oak Ridge, N. J., last Sunday. It was an extremely hot day, the aged musician's program as honored guest was a trying one, and he returned to his suite exhausted. In his weakened condition, a slight cold developed into pneumonia.

Lived in New York.

Paderewski had made his home at the hotel for more than a year, during which period he spent his time working in the interest of Polish defense and more recently in promoting the sale of United States defense bonds. He had not appeared on the concert stage for some time, but spent his leisure moments at the keyboard of the instrument thru which he gained world-wide fame.

Paderewski, first and last, was a patriot. For the cause of a free Poland he had dedicated not only himself but his huge fortune. The final tragedy of his life came with the partitioning of his native land between Russia and Germany in 1939 after two decades of independence to which he had contributed.

Raises Funds for Poles.

Shortly after this partitioning in his 79th year, the famous pianist opened a concert tour to raise funds for his homeland. "The soul of Poland cannot be conquered," he said. To the last, the dream of the leonine headed musician was for a free Poland.

Paderewski's long career was one of continuous brilliance. He was a child prodigy at 9, a professor of music at 18, a triumphant concert pianist at 27, and—after three decades of international fame as a virtuoso—a world recognized statesman, the first prime minister of a free Poland.

His reign as prime minister—he also was foreign minister—lasted less than a year, from Jan. 17, 1919, to Dec. 9, 1919. His resignation virtually was forced by the Polish president, Joseph Pilsudski. Paderewski continued, however, to represent Poland officially for several years, first at the League of Nations and later at European conventions.

Spends Fortune for Liberty.

After that came alternating periods of retirement and concert work, but at all times Paderewski was the Polish patriot. It is estimated that for Poland's independence he spent a personal fortune of $2,700,000.

Paderewski's patriotism was a natural heritage. He was born Nov. 8, 1860, at Kurylowka, in what then was Russian Poland. He was only 3 when his father, a prosperous farmer, was banished to Siberia for anti-czarist activities. This he always remembered.

As a boy Paderewski displayed talent at the piano. He studied at the Warsaw conservatory, where his artistry won him a faculty appointment. He made his formal debut in Vienna in 1887, scoring an instant triumph. He duplicated this triumph later in Paris, London, New York, and, on Jan. 1, 1892, in Chicago. He made several American tours in subsequent years, being lionized everywhere.

Shows Faith in U. S. Music.

Paderewski demonstrated his faith in the future of American music in 1896 when he founded the Paderewski award by which a gift of $10,000 established a fund for encouragement of American music.

Between his travels from one continent to another, he found time to compose numerous works, including one opera, "Manru," presented in New York in 1902. In all he wrote 20 recognized compositions, including his famous "Minuet."

The year 1914 made an historic transition in his life. He saw in the out-

U. S. Seizes 29 in Roundup of Spy Suspects

New York, June 29 (AP).—In the biggest spy suspect roundup in the history of the United States, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, announced today that 29 persons—3 of them women and 22 of them men of German birth—had been arrested on charges of conspiracy to engage in espionage activities in the United States.

Culminating a two year investigation and "most extensive counter espionage," Hoover said, 18 of the group were arrested in their homes and in taverns in the New York area in the last 24 hours by FBI men who moved swiftly and secretly.

Four were taken in New Jersey, one in Michigan, one in Wisconsin, and five previously had been placed in custody by federal authorities on other charges.

Found in Many Industries.

Hoover said warrants had been issued here charging all of the suspects with transmitting information to foreign nations concerning cargoes on ships bound for Great Britain, new developments in United States naval, army, and aircraft production, with special emphasis on the aircraft industry, and even the transportation by courier of samples of newly developed armaments.

In the room of one of the suspects was found a short wave radio capable of communication with Europe. The spy ring also used trans-Atlantic airplanes and secret inks, it was charged.

Obviously elated over the work of the FBI, Hoover said that previously only 19 persons had been convicted of espionage or conspiracy to commit espionage since passage of the federal espionage act of 1917.

Subject to 20 Year Terms.

Under that act, he said, the suspects, if convicted, would be subject to a maximum penalty of 20 years' imprisonment. The 18 arrested in New York, he added, will be arraigned before a United States commissioner in Brooklyn tomorrow by United States District Attorney Harold M. Kennedy. Those arrested in other states soon will be brought to New York.

The FBI chief identified one of the men listed as Frederick Joubert Du Quesne as "a writer, lecturer, and professional spy." He is a native of Cape Colony, South Africa, and a naturalized citizen of the United States.

[Duquesne, who is 61 years old, fought with the British in the Boer war. He was indicted as responsible for an explosion in 1916 aboard the British steamship Tennyson in which three of the crew were killed. While awaiting extradition from the United States to England, he escaped from Bellevue hospital, New York in 1918. Later he was reported active in South America.]

Still another of the suspects under arrest is Carl Reuper, a native of Germany, and a naturalized Unitde States citizen whom Hoover identified as the originator of the German-American Alliance in Chicago.

TEN U. S. MARINES REPORTED ABOARD TORPEDOED VESSEL

Washington, D. C., June 29 (AP).—An authoritative source said today that a ship carrying 10 American marines to England had been torpedoed and sunk in the Atlantic.

Advices on the sinking, this source said, reported that one American was missing, leading to the presumption that the others had been rescued.

The ship was said to be the Maarsden, a former Dutch vessel now in the service of the British.

At the navy department there was no immediate confirmation of the report. The department announced yesterday that three officers and 60 men of the marine corps were being dispatched to London "to facilitate communications between the various United States offices located there."

ITALY GETS READY ON HOME FRONT FOR A LONG WAR

ROME, June 29 (AP).—Italy took new steps on the home front today to prepare for a long war.

The nation looked to wood burners to keep it warm thru the second winter of the war as the timber guild ordered immediate measures to assure adequate supplies of cordwood and charcoal to supplant coal.

Speakers at a guild meeting pointed out the necessity of increasing the charcoal output to take the place of imported coal, which now is a necessity for war industries. Timber from Croatia is expected to help meet the emergency situation.

SYDNEY, Australia, June 29 (AP).—Four of the severest earthquakes ever felt in Australia were recorded during the night by the Sydney observatory. The epicenter was given as near Finke, central Australia.

A Little Scottie Scampers Into Big Adventure

New York, June 29 [Special].—Twenty five persons—operating a rowboat, the two-way radio in New York airport's control tower, a Pan American Airways launch, a police launch, a police radio car, a tractor and a rowboat—were stumped for an hour today as they tried to catch a runaway who apparently feared her first airplane trip.

Scottie, a 5 year old Scotch terrier, was the runaway. She threw the field into a turmoil before she was returned to her owner, Mrs. Julian Busby of Kannapolis, N. C.

How it Started.

Mrs. Busby registered at the Eastern Airlines counter to take a morning plane to Charlotte, N. C. Scottie was in a dog carrier. Mrs. Busby stopped at the coffee shop, and Scottie was sent to the baggage room. There she whined so pleadingly that an attendant opened the carrier to give her some water. The dog slipped out, and the chase began.

Scottie dashed out of the terminal, thru a parking lot, and onto the flying field, with the attendant and others in hot pursuit. A policeman in a radio car was notified by the control tower of the dog's "position." He drove after her, but lost time in getting permission to cross the field. Scottie, unhampered by regulations, continued on her way.

Woman Rides Tractor.

Mrs. Busby boarded a tractor and was driven by a mechanic in her pet's wake. Scottie bounded on, skipping over 150 yards of mudflats and diving into Flushing bay.

A police launch and a Pan American Airways launch, directed by the control tower radio, took up the chase. So did two youngsters who appeared in a rowboat. They picked up the dog and delivered her to the police launch.

Mrs. Busby hugged her dog and missed her plane. Eight hours later she boarded another. Scottie, secure in a canine traveling bag, was beside her seat.

Prime Minister Reaffirms Sweden's Independence

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 29 (AP).—Prime Minister Per Albin Hansson said today that Sweden's permission for a German division to cross from Norway to Finland thru her territory was a restricted concession. He said that the permission, which was an obliging and non-recurring act, in no way affected Sweden's determination to maintain independence.

ENGLISH TRADE CHIEFS GIRD FOR POST-WAR FIGHT

British manufacturers are now being urged by their statesmen and journalists to prepare to go "all out" for export trade after the war is over, according to British journals received in Chicago. That the British, in the midst of their war effort, have not forgotten their reputation as the tradespeople of the world is shown in recent statistics listing their total exports in 1940 as $1,652,336,820, a decrease of only $105,806,020—or 6 per cent—from 1939, when the war began in September.

The British are being told that in the two decades between the World war and the present conflict they did not keep pace with the development of export trade by America, Germany, and Japan, and that they should now lay the groundwork to "beat these countries at their own game." Expansion of British foreign trade will, of course, bring it more in competition with the United States, now engaged in an "all out" material aid for Britain's campaign.

Rallying Call Noted.

One of the rallying calls to British industry was noted here yesterday in a copyrighted article in the Illustrated London News of May 24. The article, "Britain's Export Trade—the Way to Win Future World Markets," was written by R. Derwent Savage, managing editor of the British "Wartime Trading Bulletin" and was based on government and other authoritative information compiled by the wartime trading information bureau.

The table of official statistics accompanying Savage's article lists exports for 1939 at $1,758,142,840 against the $1,652,336,820 for 1940. The table was compiled by the British wartime trading information bureau.

"Now, while the war is still on, is the time for British manufacturers to plan for the future," Savage wrote. "The majority will probably not be able to do much actual export business untill peace returns, but the groundwork for postwar export development should be laid now. The world will always recognize and value British quality so long as present standards are maintained, and what our own producers must do first is to shed completely the apathy that has been so apparent in the past.

"All Out" for Export Trade.

"Then they must study the methods by which other countries have taken from them the business which their respective industries formerly enjoyed and they must set out to beat these countries at their own game. . . . This country must prepare now to go 'all out' for export trade to the same degree as it is now 'all out' for war production.

"If the need for this is grasped and acted upon, while Britain can never hope to become again 'the world's workshop'—no country will ever again be able to attain that position—she will vastly increase her prewar figures in all industries and thus bring about a return of prosperity to this country that should at least equal, if not surpass, anything she has known in the past."

SUNNY SUMMER, A LULL IN RAIDS— BRITISH FROLIC

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 29.—The arrival of glittering weather, coincident with a lull in the day and night bombings by Germany's air force, has revived interest in the pleasures of summer life in England.

Altho most of England's accessible and attractive beaches are in areas now closed to the public, the Thames and other rivers invited thousands of week-end visitors and picnickers. The Thames, almost as far as it is navigable, was the scene of pleasure jaunts reminiscent of prewar days. Steamers carried huge throngs.

Near Henley-on-Thames and near Eton, college crews and scullers pulled at oars. Here and there men striped to the waist energetically thrust long poles against the bottom of the river to propel their boats, on most of which women lounged lazily.

Theaters and movies reported business improved as a result of the weather and the absence of raids. Noel Coward's new play, a farce called the "Blitz Spirit," which will open in London on Wednesday, took in $10,400 during its tryout week in Manchester.

Sarah Churchill, daughter of the prime minister, will make her first appearance tomorrow in Barrie's "Mary Rose."

Shakespeare's "King John," with Ernest Milton as the king, will open on July 7. Sadler and Well's opera is continuing the season with a double bill introduced into the répertoire.

GERMAN TROOPS PASS MINSK IN MOSCOW DRIVE

Claim 4,107 Russian Planes Wrecked.

BERLIN, June 30 [Monday]—(AP).—Strong German panzer units thrusting across the old Russian-Polish border have swept beyond Minsk, capital of White Russia, and reached the road to Moscow, almost 450 miles distant by air, it was reported this morning.

Shortly after the German high command had reported successes over the Russians in a series of communiques, DNB, official German news agency, declared the panzer units were at the "beginning of the motor road from Minsk to Moscow."

Farther north, DNB added, the Russians were fleeing and there was no front at all in the Baltic area. DNB reported the soviets were disbanding in the Baltic sector. Still farther north, along the Finnish-Russian frontier, hostilities flared for the first time. Dispatches from Helsingfors said artillery rumbled all along the 600 mile stretch of land.

Side Step Soviet Troops.

The German news agency said the panzer troops beyond Minsk, which is 20 miles inside the old Russian border, side stepped encircled Red armies at Bialystok, in former Poland.

[The Russians conceded that German tanks had burst thru their defenses in the Minsk sector, but said they were checked and cut off from their bases and under constant aerial bombardment. Countering the German claims of losses inflicted, the Russians asserted their own casualties in men and machines were not nearly as heavy as the Germans said, while the Nazis were declared to have suffered very heavily. Details on page 2.]

The German high command asserted that 4,107 Russian planes were destroyed and 2,233 tanks wrecked or captured in Nazi drives which it said had swept thru Lithuania well into neighboring Latvia, trapped two soviet armies, and reached the region of Minsk.

"New and great success is in preparation," the high command said in publishing its delayed review of the Nazi drive to the east.

Issue Special Communiques.

A series of 12 special communiques, released yesterday over a period of five hours, told the official story.

One by one they painted the picture of a vast campaign over a 500 mile front that ruptured Russian fortifications south of the Pinsk [Pripet] marshes, battered back defenders across sovietized Poland, and pushed 350 miles northeastward from Warsaw along the railroad toward Leningrad.

The German shortwave radio transmitted the communiques in succession and, in every interlude, the station played the song "We March Against England."

Defense Against Danger.

Beginning with a terse account of the onslaught at 3 a. m. June 22 "as a defense against the danger threatening from the east," the communiques swelled to a crescendo with these details of the Russian toll:

Forty thousand prisoners captured.

Four thousand one hundred and seven planes destroyed.

Two thousand two hundred and thirty-three tanks destroyed or captured.

One thousand two hundred and ninety-seven armored cars destroyed.

Six hundred heavy guns captured.

Four Destroyers Sunk.

"Vast quantities" of motor cars, anti-aircraft and anti-tank guns, machine guns, and rifles seized.

Four destroyers, three submarines, and a torpedo boat sunk.

The 8,800 ton cruiser Maxim Gorky "seriously damaged."

"In comparison," the final communique said, "our losses were held within moderate limits. In the same period our air force lost 150 planes. German flyers, as well as German materials, demonstrated a towering superiority."

The two Russian armies surrounded were reported to be within a German ring "drawing closer" east of Bialystok, and the high command said that "thereby the fate will be sealed of numerous Russian divisions which had been intended for a central thrust against Germany."

[The size of the two Russian armies

FINNS OPEN WAR ON REDS ALONG 600 MILE FRONT

Helsingfors Hears Roar of Heavy Guns.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, June 29 (AP).—Artillery duels shook the Russian-Finnish border for more than 600 miles today as the northern front suddenly blazed into full fury.

From the Baltic to the Arctic, Finnish Field Marshal Mannerheim's midnight order of the day, calling on Finns to follow him in a "holy war" against the Russians, was the signal for the end of Finland's previous passive resistance to the U. S. S. R.

Full details of the fighting were not disclosed.

[The Russians said the Finns and Germans had been repulsed with heavy losses.]

Hear Rumble of Guns.

The distant rumble of heavy gunfire was heard in the streets of this capital all day. Occasionally nearer explosions were heard with a sharper note as harbor forts fired at targets offshore, where Russian warships are believed on patrol. Bursts of smoke could be seen out at sea.

Helsingfors taste of the day's fighting was topped off by air raid alarms, altho no Russian planes reached the city. Defending fighters patroled the skies constantly.

A government spokesman said the Finns had watched the Russians mobilize along the Finnish border for many weeks past, the concentration of troops and war materials proceeding day and night.

"We saw the enemy get ready to assault us by land as well as by air," he said. "We had no choice but to strike back before we were overwhelmed."

Destroy Industrial Works.

An army report today related that the Russians were seen Saturday destroying the industrial works at Enso, just across the border in territory which Finland was forced to cede to Russia in the peace of March, 1940.

All the Karelian area which was ceded has been systematically devastated, the Finns said. Lookouts at frontier points reported they watched the Russians raze villages and farm buildings and even set fire to great forests, apparently to keep anything of value from falling back into Finnish hands.

Shortly before the outbreak of the German-Russian war, June 22, Finnish watchers said the Russians were busy moving machinery and everything portable from the Hango naval base which Finland was forced to lease to Russia. Even window frames and doors were taken down and carried away, they said.

REDS TRY TO KEEP TURKEY OUT OF GERMANS' ORBIT

ISTANBUL, Turkey, June 29 (AP).—Turkish sources said today Russia had proposed to supply Turkey with gasoline and other military and industrial essentials in an effort to keep the Ankara government from falling completely into the German orbit. Russia has available gasoline formerly going to Germany and could reopen depots in Turkey closed a year ago.

Soviet Ambassador Vinogradov, hurrying back from Moscow, crossed the border last night and was expected to make an energetic attempt at Ankara to improve Turkish relations which soured abruptly on Adolf Hitler's charge that Russia demanded Bosporus bases.

The Turkish press mildly praised the soviet for repeated but belated denials that such demands were made.

GRAVE EVENTS FEARED TAKING PLACE IN RIGA

[Copyright: 1941: By the New York Times.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 29.—Grave events may be taking place in Riga, the Latvian capital, according to fears aroused here today by fragmentary evidence pieced together by radio listeners.

At 8:40 a. m., the Riga radio, which until then had been silent, suddenly announced in Russian and Lettish: "Attention, attention, the people's commissar Novik orders all movements to cease and all citizens to remain where they are."

Half an hour later the same station broadcast in Lettish the names of about a score of persons "discovered, tried and shot "for attempted insurrection, sabotage, etc. During the broadcast, amid atmospheric interference, listeners could hear noises closely resembling machine gun fire and rifle shots.

HUNGARIANS SET FIRES IN AERIAL RAIDS ON RUSSIA

BUDAPEST, Hungary, June 29 (AP).—The Hungarian air force bombed unidentified Russian military objectives this morning and caused "fires and great destruction," it was announced officially tonight.

The Hungarians said they used a large number of planes in reprisals for Russian air attacks upon the provinces of Nagybaanya and Tala Borfalva, and that all returned.

Seven Russian planes again attacked Hungarian objectives today, but three of them were destroyed in an air battle.

SPAIN 'TO PUNISH' MEN WHO STONED BRITISH EMBASSY

LONDON, June 29 (AP).—Authoritative quarters reported today that Generalissimo Francisco Franco, Spanish chief of state, had assured Britain he would punish rioters who stoned the British embassy on June 24.

F. D. R. EXPANDS DRAFT ARMY TO LIMIT OF 900,000

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., June 29.—In an executive order signed yesterday and released today, President Roosevelt expanded to 900,000 the number of new draftees to be trained in the 1942 fiscal year, beginning July 1, thereby indicating that most draftees now in service will be retained only for one year.

In releasing the executive order at the temporary White House here, where the President is week-ending at his mother's home, William D. Hassett, Presidential secretary, told reporters that the war department expects to ask the selective service system for new draftees when the training period expires for those now in service.

Hedges on Flat Reply.

When asked whether today's order was an absolute indication that most draftees will be released when their year is up, Hassett first gave an unqualified answer of "yes," but later hedged by saying he is not a military lawyer.

There have been reports that the war department would try to keep the present draftees in service longer than one year before returning them to private life, but such action would rquire an act of congress. There have been rumors that such legislation would be requested along with the war department's recommendation for continued active service for the National Guard.

Still May Be Held.

There still is the possibility that some of the men now in service will be retained, to help train newcomers, because Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, has asserted that some draftees may be needed longer than one year, altho these will constitute only a fraction of the total.

The 900,000 figure is the maximum number of draftees permitted under existing law. The authorization for the fiscal year ending tomorrow was 800,000 men, of which 650,000 actually have been inducted into the armed services.

The executive order issued today authorizes the secretary of war to call the new man power for service and training as he sees fit during the 1942 fiscal year.

ROOSEVELT SETS UP NEW BUREAU, CREATES 2 NEW DECORATIONS

Washington, D. C., June 29.—In three executive orders, signed yesterday and released today, President Roosevelt established:

An office of scientific research and development in the Office of Emergency Management and transferred into it the national defense research committee.

An "American defense service medal" to be awarded members of the armed services who have served during the period of limited and unlimited national emergencies proclaimed by President Roosevelt. The order did not say what a man must do to merit the medal.

A "good conduct medal" to be awarded enlisted men of the army who hereafter honorably complete three years' service and are recommended by commanding officers for "exemplary behavior, efficiency, and fidelity." It was recalled that the army has been trying to get draftees to sign up for a regular three year term.

CONGRESS GAINS RECRUITS IN ITS ANTI-WAR DRIVE

Push Into Russia Changes Capital Sentiment.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 29.—The shift of the focus of the war to eastern Europe has greatly diminished the danger of the United States becoming involved in the conflict.

Sentiment in congress one week after Germany went to war with Russia is running more strongly than ever against any action likely to bring this country into the war as a full fledged belligerent. The tide of opinion is clearly flowing in favor of the noninterventionists and against the interventionists.

Apparently prevailing is the noninterventionist view that Hitler in attacking Russia confessed his inability to invade the British isles and that if he could not get across the 20 mile wide English channel to attack Britain he could never get over the 3,000 mile wide Atlantic ocean to attack the United States.

Leaders Are Outspoken.

Washington is abuzz with discussion of the outburst of anti-interventionist utterance by administration leaders in both houses of congress yesterday. The incident is universally regarded as the most significant development pertaining to American war policy since the war.

Interventionists, who have been urging the President to send our navy and airforce overseas at once to attack the Nazis while they are occupied in Russia, were discomfited by the noninterventionist speech of Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.] and particularly by that of Senator Walter F. George [D., Ga.], chairman of the senate foreign relations committee.

Senator George, with whom no other administration supporters took issue, uttered what is generally regarded as a warning to the President against sending our armed forces into an undeclared war.

The interventionists are pressing Mr. Roosevelt to order our forces into action at once without consulting congress, which alone is vested by the constitution with the power of declaring war. Dr. Frank Kingdon of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies said that "the American navy should proceed at once to clear the Atlantic of Nazi submarines and raiders to insure the freedom of the seas."

Points Way to Unity.

Senator George, who has supported the President's war policy up to date warned the President of the danger of national disunity involved in any attempt to take the country into the war without the consent of congress.

"The way to national unity," he said, "is to give our people the assurance that when we are called upon to move into the actual range of fire and send our men there, whether on board naval vessels or in aircraft, the American people themselves will have some opportunity to pass upon that question; in other words, that they will have the ultimate decision, thru the machinery to which they have become accustomed, and the only machinery which they have at hand; will be able to pass upon the question of whether an actual state of war shall be brought into being or a formal declaration of hostilities shall be made by the people of America.

If they are given such assurance, and the hour comes when we are called upon to make further commitments, a little debate may take place here. A few days or even a week or so of debate may occur here; but when the decision is made the American people will say of the action of the congress, the executive, and the American government, 'my government has spoken, and we will wholeheartedly and enthusiastically support that decision.'"

Demands Russian Policy Quiz.

In a resolution which he will offer in the house tomorrow Representative George Holden Tinkham [R., Mass.] demands an investigation by a house committee of the administration's policy in relation to soviet Russia.

"President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull have taken into their arms that most bloody aggressor, the homicidal Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, the destroyer of 'democracies' and a dictatorship of unparalleled cruelty," said Mr. Tinkham.

"American money and perhaps American blood are to be used by President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull for the perpetuation of communism in Europe and the rest of the world. They have publicly promised credits and materials to the soviet union.

"This action by them is the result of their optional use of the fantastic lend-lease bill. This bill established a preposterous foreign policy for the United States. Whereas it was alleged to be a measure to keep the United States out of war, it quickly brought the United States to the brink of war in Europe and Asia, and whereas its declared purpose was to defend the so-called 'democracies,' actually it has resulted in the United States underwriting communism in Europe and Asia and undertaking to assist the communistic soviet union in its war against Finland, one of the most democratic countries in Europe.

"The support of communism by President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull has even led them to refuse, illegally, to apply the neutrality act, with its combat zone provisions to prevent the sinking of American ships, to the war now being waged by the soviet union.

"There should be a thoro and fearless investigation by a committee of the congress of the policy of President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull in relation to communism and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, beginning with the recognition of the soviet union in 1933. This recognition, given in the face of powerful public protest, gave official standing and encouragement to communism in the United States and led to its present commanding position in the affairs of our country."

At Wabash Rally

YOU TELL 'EM WE WANT NO WARS, HOOSIERS SHOUT

Grass Roots Rally Brings Out Sentiment.

BY THOMAS MORROW.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Wabash, Ind., June 29.—There were fried chicken, fruit salad, 96 degree heat, and a verbal aversion to war today in City park.

Right after church the folks began to gather around the benches that sprawl in the grassy acres surrounding the bandstand. They curved a satisfied molar around a short ton of fried chicken and auxiliary victuals, allowed that the boys had better stay on the farm where they're needed, and enjoyed the speeches, croquet, and music by the Honolulu Conservatory of Music and the high school band.

There were approximately 5,000 persons in the 13 acre park when the speaking began. These people dislike war. They cheered Sam Pettengill, former representative in congress from Indiana, when he told them that "we didn't ask for anything after the last war—and that's what we got."

"That's Telling Them!"

And they nodded approval and told each other, "that's telling them," when Representative Karl E. Mundt [R., S. D.] shouted his conviction that peace and no meddling in Europe was the desire of the people and the oft stated conviction of the founding fathers of the United States.

"Some one has said that America is God's last chance to make a world," Mundt told his audience. "And even God can't help out if you typical Americans along the Wabash don't give him some help.

"You want freedom, doggone you, of course you do. So, write the President, your congressmen, and keep on writing them. Write your preacher. Does he talk about the Hittites, the Israelites, and the termites of old, or does he talk about keeping America out of the war?"

Telegram Arouses Cheer.

The crowd shouted agreement with Representative Forest A. Harness [R., Ind.], a man with a vast distaste for meddling in Europe's wars. "I wish there might be such Grass Roots patriotic rallies in every American community," said a telegram from Harness, which was read by Mayor James L. Smallwood.

There was a dramatic pause here on the sun-faded banks of the Wabash river when Homer Showalter, former mayor and a man who said that he believes that Americans should be for America, asked the folks to join him in singing "America." They listened intently as he read the verse, and they gave the song significance—not merely a mouthful of mumbled words—when they joined in singing the patriotic tune.

LOOT OFFICE SAFE.

Burglars who ransacked the office safe yesterday in the Henry G. Lange Machine works, 166 North May street, used two electric drills owned by the company to open the safe. The amount of their loot was not determined immediately.

INDIANA PASTOR PRAYS THAT WE BE SPARED FROM WAR MONGERING

Wabash, Ind., June 29 [Special].—The Rev. Ora Oxley, pastor of the Christian church in Dora, 12 miles east of Wabash, volunteered his services for the Grass Roots patriotic rally here today. In his closing prayer, he said:

"We here in Wabash want nothing more than a chance to lead our usual lives. And they—our lives—O God, are not far removed from Your teachings.

"Here in the middle west we raise our crops—the corn, the wheat, and we tend our stock. By doing this, O Lord, we aid in feeding the world.

"So, Almighty God, we ask You, with the humble selfishness of the man who follows the plow, the man who tends the cattle, the man who does his homely chores, please guide us safely away from the godless, the self-seeking, and the ill-advised.

"Your way is not war, O God, so let us follow our peaceful teachings, let us cultivate our crops, cherish our families, and stay clear of the war mongering desire for battle. This, O God, we ask You, and nothing more."

PRIEST ASSAILS U. S. PLANS TO AID RED RUSSIA

Charlottesville, Va., June 29 [Special].—Opposition to American aid to soviet Russia was declared here today by the Rev. John Tracy Ellis, professor of history at Catholic university, Washington, D. C., in an address at the University of Virginia.

He explained he was speaking as an individual priest, but added that an "official announcement of the assumption of a similar attitude on the part of the Catholic church" is anticipated.

The Rev. Mr. Ellis described soviet Russia as "that nation which above all others has come closest to the reign of Satan on earth," and asserted that "it is with singularly bad grace that the American nation should publicly go before the world in defense of the 'four freedoms'—especially the freedom to worship God—and then turn to give aid to Russia."

FALL KILLS STUDENT, 23.

Howard Sandiford, 23 years old, a student at the Armour college of engineering, died yesterday in the Chicago Memorial hospital of burns suffered June 11 when he fell down a stairway of the E. F. Houghton & Co. plant, 3534 Shields avenue, where he was employed as an engineer. He lived at 1621 Montrose avenue.

TAFT SAYS MERE SLOGAN SHAPES NATIONAL POLICY

Boston, Mass., June 29 (AP).—Declaring dictator nations had been embraced as democratic in the "battle for democracy against the aggressor nations," United States Senator Robert A. Taft [R., O.] today said the term democracy "threatens to become a fetish without real meaning."

"It almost has come to mean any nation on our side," he declared in a prepared address at the opening of the National Education association's 79th annual convention.

"From including China, where no man ever was elected to office, and Greece and Brazil, ruled unquestionably by dictators," he said, "It almost has been brought to include Russia, under the most ruthless dictator of them all.

"If we let a name, a political slogan, direct our whole American policy, without constantly considering the purpose of that slogan, we are not going long to remain a democracy ourselves."

LONDON PAPERS BLAZON STORY: 'U.S. MAY COME IN'

Hint America Will Send Troops Abroad.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 29.—"United States troops may go overseas."

This two column headline appeared on the front page of the Sunday Express over a Washington, D. C., story stating that the American administration has "decided to ask congress for a formal declaration of a national emergency to give President Roosevelt a free hand in defense moves."

This was one of the many press intimations that America may throw her full military and naval force with soviet Russia and Great Britain to defeat Adolf Hitler.

Explains the Procedure.

Such a declaration from congress, the story explained, "would lift restrictions on the President's power to order troops to points outside the western hemisphere and would give him the powers lacking under the national emergency proclamation which he has already issued without formal concurrence of congress."

[After a similar story was published in a Washington paper and had stirred a storm in congress, one of President Roosevelt's secretaries refused on Saturday to confirm or deny it. He described the report as "too silly for comment."]

The Sunday Times, reporting the same story captioned "Roosevelt Asks for New Powers, Free Hand Urged," referred readers to a story on the editorial page under the caption "United States, Intervention in Every Way the Aim."

The Times' New York correspondent cabled that President Roosevelt has succeeded in establishing a policy of aid to Russia without encountering "congressional opposition of much consequence" and added that the "wide concensus of opinion" in America is that the time now is ripe for her to strike.

Forecasts "Bold Moves."

The Sunday Empire News front paged a story by its diplomatic correspondent under a head stating, "Important Moves Forecast; Swift and Bold." The forecast read:

"Within a very short time, probably within the next few days, we may expect an important declaration which may definitely turn the tide of war. It will make a vast impression thruout the world and demolish any hope Hitler might have concerning his Russian onslaught."

The correspondent promised that Britain could be depended upon to develop the offensive against Germany and strike crippling blows at her "war industries, her luftwaffe [air force], her army and, equally important, her morale." He asserted the German attack against Russia, instead of "lulling America into lethargy," has "only spurred her on to greater efforts."

Suggestion for July 4.

The tabloid Sunday Graphic said in an editorial, "Russia, America, and Britain fighting together can hold Hitler until winter comes and spell his impending doom," and predicted that the "reaction of the American people can be only one thing, 'very well, we will show him.'"

The Sunday Graphic suggested that Independence day is a good time for the United States and Britain to celebrate "not with firecrackers but with the boom of guns and the crash of bombs making war upon the enemy."

"America can play a tremendous part in insuring the survival of Russia," Editor John Gordon wrote in the Sunday Express, suggesting that "even without declaring war America could mobilize her best technicians and pour them thru Vladivostok into Russia."

A Plan for Dakar.

The London Times, on June 18, in a column and a half editorial captioned "Clearing the Decks," suggested the manner in which the United States might extend naval aid. "There are sites, for instance, in British Gambia no more than a day's motor run from Dakar which might be leased to the United States, similar to the West Indian bases, and provide facilities for effective patrol of important routes. The possibilities of this new use of a small British possession, might well be further explored."

This suggestion, the Times declared, fits in with Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox's promises that America is on the way to a "swift achievement" to prevent German domination of the high seas.

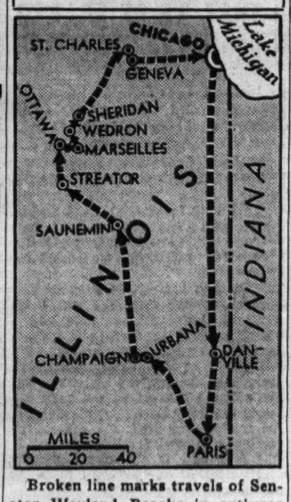

The Times also urged the necessity for teaching American history in British schools, complaining that the United States still is an "undiscovered country." More knowledge of America is necessary here, it was stated, because a "larger and perhaps predominant share of the responsibilities of leadership now and in the future will fall on the United States."

"Detest the Red Régime."

Since Prime Minister Churchill made his broadcast on June 22 welcoming Russia as an ally, practically every newspaper and periodical except the Weekly Review has endorsed Churchill's decision and the principles on which it was based. The Weekly Review said that "millions of Russians detest the communist régime imposed upon them and if it is merely a question of assisting these millions in their attempt to ward off a second taskmaster, nothing could be said, except perhaps strategically, against helping them."

"If one encounters in the street a band of gangsters who are having a quarrel it is a solid rule to leave them fight it out. To get mixed in the fray is almost certain death."

Anti-War Tour

Broken line marks travels of Senator Wayland Brooks in anti-war speech making tour, which ended yesterday with his return to Chicago.

Added determination to keep the United States out of the war and free from all tyranny was voiced yesterday by Senator Wayland Brooks [Rep., Ill.] as he completed a three day tour of north central Illinois.

"I have no choice," he said, "but to carry to Washington the message given me by the hundreds with whom I have spoken these few days. That message was to carry on to prevent our entry into the war."

On the way into Chicago with his son, Russell, Senator Brooks stopped in St. Charles for a chat with Louis Rockwell, Kane county treasurer, and other political leaders. Rockwell, who fought alongside Brooks in the world war, told the senator that sentiment in St. Charles and the surrounding towns is strongly behind him.

TRIBUNE STARTS STATEWIDE POLL ON WAR TODAY

A stream of postcards in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S "Yes" or "No" poll on the question of America's entry into the war will start flowing today into Chicago, Cook county, and nine downstate cities, a movement that will continue thru Thursday, when 257,484 cards will have been mailed.

Fifty thousand of the cards bearing the question—"Shall the United States Enter the War to Help Britain Defeat Hitler?"—will be mailed today by 100 girls.

Every 10th voter on the official registration lists in Cook county, and in Cairo, Bloomington, Springfield, Rockford, Aurora, Peoria, East St. Louis, Danville, and Galesburg—will be mailed a card.

15 SHIPS, TOTAL OF 86,500 TONS, SUNK, NAZI CLAIM

BERLIN, June 29 (AP).—Destruction of 15 ships totaling 86,500 tons by German U-boats and bomber planes was claimed officially tonight by the German high command.

Submarines raiding convoys and single ships in the Atlantic sank one tanker and seven freighters aggregating 46,700 tons, and torpedoed one tanker and two freighters of 25,000 tons, a communique said.

"Destruction of these [latter] ships can be regarded as certain, so that U-boats with this blow accounted for 71,700 tons of enemy merchant shipping."

The time of the U-boat attacks was not indicated.

Hull Harbor Raided.

Bombers sent to the bottom of waters around England three freighters and one fishing ship totaling 14,800 tons in attacks Saturday night.

German planes raided harbor facilities on the British southeast coast and attacked the important harbor of Hull on the east coast.

"On both sides of the Hull river and on the Humber, several extended fires were observed," the war report said.

One Nazi Raider Downed.

LONDON, June 30, Monday (AP).—One German air raider was reported shot down last night in light raids on Britain after RAF fighters had made another daylight sweep across the channel without encountering a Nazi plane.

Only a few bombs were dropped in eastern England during the night, a communique said, and they caused neither damage nor casualties.

"Extremely bad" weather compelled the RAF to suspend its night offensive upon Germany Saturday night and ended the air force record for consecutive nightly attacks upon reich territory.

It was the first night in the last 17 in which there was no air attack upon the Rhineland, the Ruhr, and other areas of northwest Germany.

Mist over British landing fields sometimes prevents British planes from attacking the continent, where better landing weather may permit German planes to attack England.

NAZI TANKS CUT OFF AFTER DASH THRU LINES: REDS

Admit Defenses in Minsk Sector Broken.

MOSCOW, June 30, Monday (AP).—German tanks burst thru the Russian defenses in the Minsk sector of White Russia Sunday but were checked and cut off from their bases by the stubbornly resisting Red army and air force, the soviet information bureau reported today.

Under a ceaseless aerial bombardment, these German mechanical monsters are in "an extremely difficult position," a communique declared. Simultaneously, it was announced that combined Finnish-German forces Sunday made a sudden stab at the Russian frontier all along the Finnish border from the Arctic seas to the Gulf of Finland, only to be hurled back with hundreds of dead into their own fortifications.

The Finnish-German forces began their push after a week of comparative quiet along that front of about 600 miles. But it was stopped at the frontier Russian fortifications.

Acknowledges Retreat.

But it was on the Polish front and in the Minsk sector that the Russian communique placed the heaviest fighting.

It acknowledged a retreat by the Red army in the Vilna-Dvinsk area of former Lithuania, but said the Germans had failed in flank and rear attacks on these troops.

"Covering infantry which carried out the retreat from the state frontier are engaged in violent fighting and are stopping the advance of the enemy's motorized troops and of his infantry along the Lida-Wolkowysk line," the communique stated. Lida is in the Russian part of Poland, about 60 miles south of Vilna, while Wolkowysk is about 60 miles southwest of Lida.

[Wolkowysk is about 50 miles east of Bialystok, and it is in that area where the German high command claimed to have trapped two entire Russian armies.]

Claim Tank Division Destroyed.

An entire German tank division was annihilated in the fighting near Lida, according to Nazi prisoners, the Russian communique stated.

In the Luck area of southern Poland, where the Russians said yesterday 4,000 tanks were battering at one another, the Germans Sunday threw in new tank units but "were unable to gain."

"All attempts by the enemy to penetrate in the direction of Novograd-Volynski and Shepetovka [all in the Ukraine near the old Russian-Polish border] were repelled," the Russian announcement went on.

[The German radio announced late last night that the Nazis have captured Luck. The report was heard in New York. The German column attacking in the Luck sector apparently is aiming at the Russian Ukraine city of Kiev, more than 200 miles east of Luck.]

Denies German Claims.

Telling a story of prideful defense against the heaviest sort of attacks all up and down the lengthened line, the Russian communique took this notice of Sunday's long heralded German victory claims:

"Hitler and his generals broadcast that in seven days of hostilities they captured or destroyed over 2,000 soviet tanks and 600 guns, destroyed over 4,000 soviet planes, and took prisoner over 40,000 Red army men.

"By the end of the first day of war and thruout the second day only the advance units of our regular troops were able to participate in the fighting. It is for this very reason that the Germans succeeded in occupying Bialystok, Grodno, Brest Litovsk, Vilna, and Kaunas."

Now, in seven to eight days of fierce fighting, the communique went on, "the Germans lost no less than 2,500 tanks, about 1,500 airplanes, and over 30,000 prisoners of war. During the same period we lost 850 airplanes, up to 900 tanks, and up to 15,000 men missing or taken prisoner."

German Submarine Sunk.

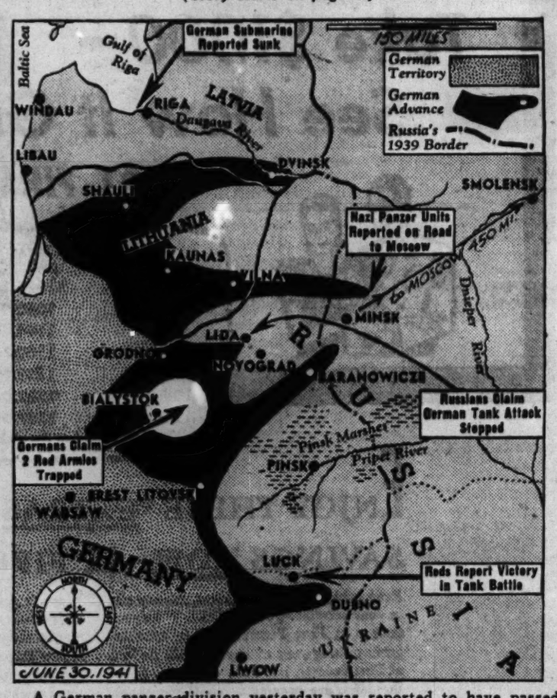

At sea, the Russians said a German submarine was sunk in Riga bay off the coast of Latvia.

In the Russian Orthodox church prayers were offered for a soviet victory over Germany.

A message to churches from acting Patriarch Sergi, metropolitan of Moscow, said "the church of Christ blesses all members of the Russian Orthodox church for defense of the holy frontiers of our fatherland. Let God bring us victory."

Report Nazis Advance Toward Moscow

A German panzer division yesterday was reported to have passed Minsk on the road to Moscow. Captions indicate developments in the Russo-German fighting.

Philippines List 10 Dead After Typhoon Hits Luzon

MANILA, P. I., June 29 (AP).—The death list in the typhoon that ripped across northern Luzon island last Friday reached 10 today, with reports still incomplete. Communications were disrupted and government officials made no estimate of the heavy damage to property and crops.

was not announced. Such forces vary widely in numerical strength. They might represent 150,000 to 500,000 men, Vichy, France, dispatches said 400,000.]

Destruction or capitulation of these trapped soviet armies is a foregone conclusion and merely a matter of days or hours, in the opinion of the high command. The general impression created here by the vast shower of information from the communiques was that, in the German view, Russia is facing a military catastrophe.

Claims Mastery of Air.

The high command declared the Luftwaffe won "air mastery in the east" in its first day of operations. Of objectives which fell before German attacks, these were listed:

The fortification at Grodno, Poland.

Brest Litovsk, Poland, and its citadel.

The cities of Vilna and Kaunas, Lithuania.

Fortifications west of Lwow [Lemberg].

Russians Still Hold Lwow.

There seemed to be distinct thrusts, aimed for the Baltic lands, for Moscow, for Kiev in the Ukraine, and the Black sea.

One week was enough for the Germans to push the Russians out of almost all of the Polish territory they had seized at the conclusion of Germany's Polish campaign in 1939.

One remaining Russian stronghold in Poland was Lwow, where stubborn detachments were standing up against the German storm. "But our troops are now victoriously approaching Lwow itself," the high command said.

For the first time from authoritative German sources, the eastern fighting areas were outlined, but the cautious high command, which lays high value on secrecy in tactics, was still vague in its delineation. Dvinsk, in German hands to the north, seemed still relatively close to the fighting. Southward from this point, the front appeared to be somewhat eastward of the captured cities.

Capture 20,000 Russians.

In relation to the millions of troops engaged, the 40,000 Russian prisoners claimed is comparatively small. Germans expected this number to increase greatly after the capitulation or destruction of the two trapped armies east of Bialystok.

Repeatedly the high command praised the Nazi air force. Destruction of 4,107 planes, more than the total air forces of some well armed nations, was described as a feat understandingly challenging credence. It was explained that the greater number were smashed on the ground.

The high command released its dozen communiques at intervals of 20 minutes to half an hour, time being given to let the import of each make its impression. It was an arrangement to keep German citizens at their radios for hours, contemplating dreams of ultimate victory. Each had its own theme.

Slovaks Penetrate Russia.

BRATISLAVA, Slovakia, June 29 (AP).—The high command of the Slovakian army reported today its troops had fought their way "deep into soviet territory."

Scotland Yard Joins Hunt for British Army Dodgers

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 29.—Scotland Yard, in coöperation with the ministry of labor, is beginning an intensive search for dodgers of army service, it was revealed tonight. The names of hundreds of men thruout the country who failed to register have been listed. Squads of detectives who raided night clubs in London on Saturday will search cafes, clubs, saloons, billiard rooms, and dance halls for the slackers.

BERTRAM WOLFGANG ZENZINGER, Topanga Cayon road, Topanga Canyon, Cal., Zenzinger is a British subject from the Union of South Africa. He was taken into custody by FBI agents at Los Angeles on April 16, 1941, entered a plea of guilty to violation of the registration act, and was sentenced in federal court at Los Angeles to serve 18 months.

EUROPE ISN'T WORTH DYING FOR—THOMAS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., June 29.—Norman Thomas, four times the Socialist party candidate for President of the United States, told Milwaukee Socialists at their annual picnic today that the American people are determined not to enter a European war. The probable outcome of the European conflict, he said, will be to establish either Hitler or Stalin as master of Europe.

"The difference between those two cruel dictators," Thomas added, "is not great enough for me ever to be willing to send American boys to their deaths to choose between them.

"I want no American to die in so terrible a war as one to determine which of these dictators shall prevail. I want to make the Atlantic and Pacific oceans the bulwarks of our freedoms, not the roads to a doubtful and costly conquest."

BOY BICYCLIST KILLED.

Moline, Ill., June 29 [Special].—Alfred Kopel, 9 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kopel of Moline, was injured fatally last night when the bicycle he was riding down a steep hill crashed into the side of a moving automobile. Mrs. Lloyd Weisbrook of Davenport, Ia., driver of the car, said the boy apparently lost control of the wheel when his coaster brake failed to function.

False Teeth Wearers Often Worst Breath Offenders!

"Need More Than a Mouth Wash" say Authorities... Recommend Poligent

A thin dark film collects on plates and bridges. This film soaks up odors and impurities like a sponge! It holds germs and decay bacteria, and it is so tough that ordinary brushing seldom removes it. It gets into every tiny crevice where brushing can't even reach. Almost always it results in "denture breath"—probably the most offensive of all breath odors.

Yet there's a perfect way to clean and purify false teeth without brushing, acid or danger. It is Polident, a powder that dissolves away all scum, stains, tarnish and odor. Makes breath sweeter—and plates or bridges look better and feel better. Tens of thousands call Polident a blessing for comfort, convenience and hygiene. Long-lasting can costs only 30¢ at any drug store. Approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau and dentists everywhere.

Cleans, Purifies Like Magic
Do this daily: Add a little Polident powder to ½ glass water. Stir. Then put in plate or bridge for 10 to 15 minutes—Rinse—and it's ready to use!

HEAR VICHY ASKS TURKS TO OCCUPY NORTHERN SYRIA

Suggests Move to Aleppo Ahead of British.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, June 28 [Delayed]—(AP).—Reports were current in diplomatic circles here today that Jacques Benoist-Mechin, vice president of the Vichy French cabinet, was proposing on behalf of his government that Turkey move into northern Syria.

Benoist-Mechin was said to have suggested that Turkey take the rich triangle including Latakia, Aleppo, and Tripoli before the British overrun it.

President Ismet Inonu of Turkey will leave Yalova, near Istanbul, tomorrow to meet Benoist-Mechin, probably on Monday, to receive a personal message of the French chief of state, Marshal Petain, that the Vichy vice president is bearing.

Earlier it had been reported that the message consisted of a request to permit the French to allow several thousand troops to pass out of Syria thru Turkey en route home.

Might Ask for Aid.

VICHY, France, June 29 (AP).—Indications were growing in Vichy today that Turkey might be asked for aid in some form in the French defense of Syria against British attack.

Such a request was considered likely to be the main mission of Jacques Benoist-Mechin, Vichy official who arrived in Ankara on June 26.

The well informed Telemondial agency linked Benoist-Mechin's trip to recent article by Jean Luchaire in the Paris newspaper Les Nouveaux Temps, which said:

"If it happens that the French army of the Levant [near east], deprived of reinforcements and supplies, be obliged to retreat or lay down arms, a danger of the most extreme gravity would weigh ipso facto upon Turkey. The most elementary prudence thus counsels the Turkish government to facilitate by all opportune means the French defense of Syria."

Refer to 1939 Treaty.

It has been reported in Vichy, ever since Benoist-Mechin left, that he was charged either with preventing Turkish entry into the conflict [to aid Britain], or negotiating for passage of French supplies of all kinds to aid embattled Syrian garrisons.

The Luchaire article pointed out that by the treaty of June 23, 1939, in which France ceded Alexandretta to Turkey, France declared she never would renounce her mandate over Syria and Lebanon to a third power.

Of the accord, Luchaire wrote:

"One can affirm that France not only is defending Syria and Lebanon against British aggression to safeguard our imperial interests, but that her troops today are fighting to maintain the promise made to the Turkish government two years ago."

BEAVERBROOK TO SPEED BRITAIN'S WAR PRODUCTION

Lord Beaverbrook.

LONDON, June 30 [Monday].—Prime Minister Winston Churchill, shuffling his cabinet for the second time in two months to take swift advantage of Adolf Hitler's campaign, today appointed Lord Beaverbrook minister of supply, with responsibility for one of the most important posts in the British war machine. Beaverbrook was given wide responsibility for making war goods in all of Britain's factories.

Simultaneously, Churchill abolished the post of minister of state, which Lord Beaverbrook was given in the cabinet changes of May 2 and in which "The Beaver" had been called vice prime minister.

Beaverbrook will continue as a member of the war cabinet.

Beaverbrook replaced Sir Andrew Rae Duncan as minister of supply. Sir Andrew went back to his former post as president of the board of trade, replacing Capt. Oliver Lyttelton, who was selected for "special duties abroad." He may be sent to South America. Sir Andrew will continue as chairman of the import authority.

Crane Wrecked

Wrecked crane on barge damaged when speedboat similar to one at left rushed by and caused waves to lash against sides.

The coast guard began an investigation yesterday into the death of Robert Dunkel, 35 years old, 2617 Wilcox street, who was killed Saturday night by the collapse of a crane on a coal barge at the north pier terminal, 441 East North Water street. Witnesses said that the accident was caused by a speedboat traveling 40 miles an hour in the river. The backwash from the speedboat rocked the barge, causing the crane to buckle. Damage to the crane was estimated at $25,000 by the owner, the J. C. Hoskins Coal company. Coast guardsmen said the river speed limit is eight miles an hour.

AMERICA FIRST DEMANDS PEOPLE GET VOTE ON WAR

The America First committee yesterday launched a nation-wide campaign in support of an advisory referendum on the question of war or peace.

Such a referendum is in full accord with the principles of a representative democracy, according to Gen. Robert E. Wood, national chairman of the committee. The power to act would remain in the hands of congress, but it would act with full knowledge of the will of the people, he said.

A referendum resolution has been introduced into the senate by a block of noninterventionist senators and was referred to the senate foreign relations committee headed by Senator Walter F. George.

R. Douglas Stuart Jr., national director of the America First committee, asked that the public flood Senator George and the members of his committee with letters in favor of the referendum.

BRITISH, FRENCH BATTLE IN SYRIA USING U.S. PLANES

CAIRO, Egypt, June 29 (AP).—A fierce desert air battle, in which American built British fighter planes vanquished American built Vichy bombers over hot central Syria, and new heavy bombing of North African bases were announced today by British headquarters.

In the air fight over Palmyra, Syria, a squadron of American Curtiss Tomahawks [Curtiss P-40's] in the Australian air force was credited with shooting down in flames six French Glenn Martin bombers.

The RAF communique today said the British bombers "successfully attacked stores and dumps near Palmyra and railway lines and other military objectives at Rayak."

General's House Bombed.

VICHY, France, June 29 (AP).—British bombers were reported by the French today to have attacked the Beirut residence of Gen. Henri Dentz, commander in chief of French forces in the Levant [near east]. The building was described as almost entirely wrecked.

Gen. and Mme. Dentz were absent when four British bombers accompanied by seven fighter planes made the raid on Friday at 5:45 p. m. Five members of the general's personal guard were killed and four wounded. Fifteen bombs were dropped, but only two hit the buildings, the French said.

The Vichy command in the Levant states proclaimed an unbroken resistance to the British-"Free French" offensive despite naval shelling of coastal positions in Lebanon, including Beirut, and abandonment of several advance posts in the mountains of southern Lebanon.

In the face of British claims that Nebek, 40 miles northeast of Damascus, had been taken, the French insisted that the situation in Syria had not changed during the last 24 hours.

Running Short of Bullets.

ANKARA, Turkey, June 27 (AP).—[Delayed].—British military circles here reported today that French colonial troops opposing the British and "Free French" drive into the Levant states from the south apparently were running short of ammunition.

ARM, BUT AVOID ENTRY IN WAR, HOOVER URGES

Warns Against Helping Spread of Red Rule.

met on the beach somewhere. And he controls every mile of the beach.

"Japan is still under agreement to attack us if we join the war. She becomes far more potent to destroy our interests in the Pacific the moment we become engaged in the Atlantic.

"It is too early to forecast the military consequences of the inclusion of Russia in the war. It does not seem likely that it will bring the end any nearer. . . .

Can America Be Conquered?

"With these weights we can examine another argument for joining this war. That argument is that Hitler will eventually make a military conquest of the western hemisphere and we better attack first. There are two questions here. First, can America be conquered, and second, can we conquer the axis?

"The Atlantic ocean is still 3,000 miles wide. For either the United States or Germany to gain victory gigantic armadas of warships and transports must be set afloat. Enormous armies must be transported all at once and ready for attack on the beach on either side. Neither enough warships nor transports exist today to do that from either side. It would take 10 years to prepare.

"These armadas could be protected by air power only in the first part of their journey. And then naval power becomes effective. When they get closer to the shore air power comes into action. And it is now demonstrated that enough air power is almost complete defense against surface ships. And after that there must be the battle on the beach. England can prevent Hitler's crossing even 25 miles of water.

Warships Proved Valuable.

"Those who assert that the Germans might capture and use the British navy against us must now recognize that the proved vulnerability of warships from bombing planes removes most of that argument.

"There is no important military man who tells me that we and Britain combined could short of long years prepare, transport, and land enough men or machines in Europe to overcome axis land and air power. And not a military man of substance believes the axis could do it to us.

"There is here also the element of Japan. She is 6,000 miles away from continental United States and conclusive grip at each other's throat is even more improbable. . . .

The Four Freedoms.

"The third argument of those who would have us join in this war is that we must destroy the whole dictator ideology and impose the four freedoms on other nations.

"That we must go to war to impose the ideals of democracy against the ideals of despotism. That is an ideological war. It is an ancient holy war. We may weigh it in both the scales of American idealism and the scales of realistic practicality. . . .

"One of the real compensations America received for our enormous sacrifices in the last war was from the large part we played in establishing the democracies of Finland, Poland, Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania. We nursed them in their infancy. We spent hundreds of millions to help them grow to manhood.

"Does America feel quite right about aiding Stalin to hold his enslavement of them?

"Here in America today is the only remaining sanctuary of freedom, the last oasis of civilization and the last reserve of moral and economic strength. If we are wise, these values can be made to serve all mankind.

"My countrymen, we have marched into the twilight of a World war. Should we not stop here and build our defense while we can still see? Shall we stumble on into the night of chaos?"

PADEREWSKI DIES OF PNEUMONIA IN NEW YORK HOTEL

break of the World war a ray of hope for Poland's resurrection. He became temporary chairman of a Help Poland committee, established branches in London and Paris, and then came to America.

Paderewski remained in America for years, molding the country's 4,000,000 Poles into a powerful organization, the Polish-American National Alliance. He raised money and delivered speeches.

Wins Wilson's Friendship.

Paderewski's greatest diplomatic stroke was the winning of Col. E. M. House's friendship, and thru him the friendship of President Wilson. In 1918 Wilson made a "free Poland" the 13th of his famous 14 points for peace, and the inspiration behind this undoubtedly came from the white haired pianist.

The Allies endorsed the Wilson proposal, and in November, 1918, a free Poland was born, fulfilling Paderewski's dream. Two months later Paderewski became Poland's first prime minister. In later years he was hailed as "Poland's savior."

His huge fortune expended on the cause, Paderewski was compelled to return to concert work. He toured parts of Europe and the United States, still the old master of the piano keyboard. He last appeared in Chicago on March 19, 1939. The Auditorium was packed.

Returns from Europe.

In May, after completing his concert tour, he suffered a heart attack. After recovering from the attack he went to Switzerland, but returned again to the United State in 1940 after Poland had been overrun by the German armies. He said he left Europe because "I simply could not stand it any more." While in Switzerland he appeared in a British movie, "Moonlight Sonata."

He was married twice. His first wife, Antonina Kersak, died at childbirth in 1880. His second, Mme. Helena Gorska, daughter of a former Russian ambassador to America, died in 1934. His only child, a son, born to his first wife, died several years ago. Paderewski held many decorations, but one he prized highly was from the American Legion, given in recognition of his financial donations to legion work.

Hear Greeks Go Hungry as Nazis Send Food Home

ANKARA, Turkey, June 27 (AP).—[Delayed.]—Foreigners arriving from Athens today declared many Greeks are going hungry while Greek wheat and potatoes are being shipped to Germany.

Some travelers said there is "real famine" in Greece. Dairy cattle in the Athens area have been slaughtered for beef, leaving a milk shortage, they said, and some estimated that more than half of the Greek population was not getting enough food for subsistence.

AN OLD FRIEND HAS LUNCHEON WITH 3 POLICE

Leonard Lovett.

For four months Detectives John Trecker, William De Roy, and Stephen Pavlik had been wondering what happened to Leonard Lovett, 30 years old. They arrested Lovett last February on complaint of police in Los Angeles, Cal.

He was released under $1,500 bond pending arrival of a Los Angeles policeman to take him back. He was accused of theft in connection with a $265 matter with a finance company. When the time for his return came Lovett wasn't to be found.

Yesterday Detectives Trecker, De Roy, and Pavlik entered a cafeteria at Madison street and Ogden avenue to eat lunch. A fourth man sat down near them. It was Lovett. In his cell later at Central station the prisoner had only one complaint—the detectives made him pay his own luncheon check. Los Angeles authorities were notified of his recapture.

WARNS BRITAIN MUST HAVE MORE CARGO TONNAGE

SHEERNESS, England, June 29 (AP).—Increased production of merchant tonnage in Britain is imperative, First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander said in a speech today.

Maximum effort also should be made to acquire such tonnage as can be gained by the expanding building program of the United States and from other shipbuilding countries.

"We require the greatest possible effort in increasing the volume and speeding up delivery of ships, guns, tanks, and planes," he declared.

WOMAN'S ESCORT IS SHOT TO DEATH WHILE ON STROLL

John Miller, 19 years old, an employé of the Continental Can company plant at 65th street and Central avenue, Clearing, was shot and killed last night while walking on an island in Sherman park, near 55th street and Racine avenue, with Mrs. Mary Wodarczyk, 22, of 5536 Throop street.

Mrs. Wodarczyk, the mother of two children, notified Stockyards police of the slaying after fleeing to her home. She told police that a bandit accosted them and "deliberately" fired three shots after taking money from Miller. Two of the bullets struck Miller, on whose body $10 was found. Mrs. Wodarczyk, who is also an employé of the plant where Miller worked, and her husband, Joseph Stanley Wodarczyk, 27, were taken to the Stockyards station for questioning while police sought to learn Miller's address.

Mrs. Wodarczyk told Lieut. Daniel Collins that she met Miller two weeks ago, and that she had been with him on two previous occasions.

An identification card found on Miller indicated that he had come to Chicago from Carriers Mills, Saline county.

SUICIDE NOTE DISCLOSES MARRIAGE.

Chester Heimgaertner, 27 years old, a truck farmer living near Mount Prospect, shot and killed himself yesterday with a rifle. He left a note disclosing his secret marriage to a neighbor girl and complaining of the attention she paid to other men. "I can't stand this torture any more," he wrote.

The National Defense Program is shifting into high gear. Business and industry are cast into new patterns. Normal activities must conform to an all-out defense economy. Speed and more speed is the order of the day.

How does the National Emergency affect your business—your daily life—your competitors?

"Your Business and the Unlimited Emergency" is a sober study of what total defense demands now! It is written for men who make and administer business policy.

Business executives who have read the proofs are unanimous in saying it is an indispensable handbook of timely information.

"Olive Drab" for Distribution and Selling?

• Trade practices which result in duplication and inefficiency are important targets of government control. Containers, styles, sizes, colors, packing, shipping, sampling, are only a few fields in which restriction will apply. Plants located inland may be in a preferential position with respect to distribution as well as production. SEE PAGE 50

Taxation, Borrowing and Profit Control

Are compulsory savings and forced loans out of income necessary? Or can defense be paid for on a pay-as-you-go basis? Taxation and borrowing function to discourage profits, consumption and non-essential production. As profits flow through a closing gate, how is the principle of profit preserved? SEE PAGE 56

Color Scheme For Advertising—Red, White and Blue

• With consumption being curtailed, advertising faces the problems of selling markets that aren't there . . . of talking about products that can't be produced. But advertising doesn't end; it begins to serve different functions. Advertising will perform a service which the British Government has already found indispensable. SEE PAGE 54

CONSCRIPTION FOR CAPITAL AND CREDIT?

In a national economy that sets up priorities for men, machines, and materials, there must be a priority system for capital and credit. How this priority system will be applied can be seen in the powers and actions of three principal bodies—the Federal Reserve System, Securities and Exchange Commission, and OPM. SEE PAGE 49

NEW PRIORITY TECHNIQUE TO SPEED PRODUCTION

Priorities team with price controls. New methods provide clamps for those who do not play ball with defense. OPACS establishes six factors in awarding civilian consumers their places on the priority breadlines. Defense Supplies Rating Plan recently developed will loosen up "off-the-shelf" supplies. SEE PAGE 29

KEEPING THE HAT ON PRICES

• Priorities in raw materials are the "rumble of a distant drum," which prices must heed. Step by step, price control advances through raw materials to semi-finished commodity, then to processed and manufactured product, finally to sales-price. OPACS and Justice Department's Anti-Trust Division move down forked roads to head off price violators. SEE PAGE 34

NEW LABOR CONTROLS

Labor asks industry three guarantees in return for no unreasonable wage demands or work stoppage in essential enterprises. But if wage controls go into effect, what is the status of collective bargaining? Is a collateral statute to NLRA needed to insure adequate labor control in defense industries? SEE PAGE 41

"FOOL'S GOLD" IN EXCESSIVE INVENTORIES

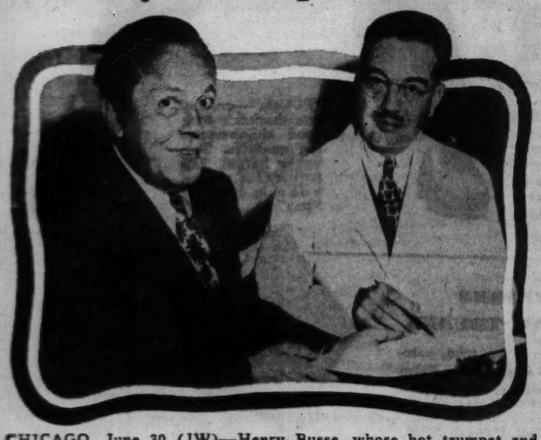

• Strict measures to regulate inventories are completed—ready to use. Unreasonable levels are taboo. But what are reasonable inventories? Persuasion through the "honor system" develops into rigid control as the supply situation tightens. Will that make present high inventories assets or liabilities? SEE PAGE 33

LEMKE ASSAILS WHAT HE CALLS TORIES OF TODAY

Rips 'Hybrid, Hyphenated Un-Americans.'

Bloomington, Ill., June 29 [Special]. — Former Representative William Lemke of North Dakota, addressing a massmeeting at Bloomington's Miller park tonight, denounced "hyphenated, hybrid un-Americans with a foreign complex" as destroyers of the American government and assailed the Roosevelt administration as being "more interested in kings and smiling queens than in the welfare of our own people."

William Lemke.

Lemke singled out the "Federal Union" movement, also known as "union now," for bitter denunciation. "Federal Union" seeks economic and political union of the United States and the British commonwealth of nations.

"Right or Wrong."

"It's our country, right or wrong," said Lemke. "When right to be kept right, when wrong to be put right. This does not mean that we are to become the tail end of another nation. It does not mean 'Union Now' or any other time, with any other nation, or combination of nations. It simply means our country—the United States of America. The tories of today are as doomed to failure as were the tories of 1776.

"The government is more interested in kings and smiling queens than in the welfare of our own people. It listens to the unpatriotic and the un-American sirens of 'Union Now.' It has practiced fraud and deception upon its own citizens. Washington is saturated with foreign intrigue.

Rips "False Propaganda."

"Since 1933, our government has been under the influence of internationalists and interventionists. Thru the false propaganda of these hyphenated Americans, we entered the first World war.

"The ugly truth is that we went into that war to save the house of Morgan from a four hundred million dollar overdraft by Great Britain. Out of the first five hundred million dollars of Liberty bonds we bought, four hundred million went to Morgan. I challenge Mr. Morgan to deny that statement.

"Now history is repeating itself. We are again being propagandized into a foreign war. The house of Morgan is again on the job. Our government is being used as a stooge by the international bankers, to fool its people.

"If we are taken into war it will not be to spread the 'four freedoms' to all the world, but to save this international banking clique from annihilation. We cannot give the 'four freedoms' to the Latin American peons, the coolies of Japan and China, nor to Stalin."

Union-with-British Group Proposes World New Deal

BY GEORGE MORGENSTERN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., June 29.—A world New Deal was envisioned today by advocates of "Federal Union," the plan to unite this country's political and economic fortunes with those of the British commonwealth of nations.

At the concluding session of their first annual convention, the Federal Unionists passed a sweeping resolution on economic democracy sponsored by Russell Davenport, managing editor of Fortune magazine and adviser of Wendell Willkie.

The hardy little band of disciples surrounding Clarence K. Streit, the former New York newspaper man who conceived the Union scheme, already had taken steps to remodel the world politically by calling upon President Roosevelt and congress to unite with Britain and the dominions at once.

The Working Man.

Altho there is no noticeable percentage of callouses on the hands of the Union intellectuals, they saw fit, in passing, to give a word of cheer to the working man all the world over by telling him how things are going to look up when union arrives.

The resolution offered by Davenport stated that there is an inseparable connection between man's political institutions and his economic well-being, and that by increasing productive power by the extension of liberty, a new economic era will open up.

By combining the resources, both natural and financial, of all the united nations, by industrializing new areas, by expanding markets, and by the ultimate elimination of tariffs and other barriers, the statement continued, economic democracy can be extended to the four corners of the world.

New Dealish Language.

The specific benefits listed as in prospect when the new day materializes was borrowed heavily from the language of the Washington, D. C., professors. They were: "increasing economic security against unemployment, illness, and indigent old age," and this security was to be "measured not on a subsistence standard, but on a decency standard."

The convention urged that the new order work to "obtain a rising standard of living for all peoples belonging to the union, particularly for farmers, industrial workers, and all others engaged in essential services." The last clause was devised to extend the promise of benefits to the white collar worker.

"The surest way to guarantee our own wages and standards, and to raise them even further," the resolution stated, "is to endeavor to raise them for all other workers, beginning with the workers in those countries which are members of Federal Union."

"Building a World."

In urging this economic program, Davenport had stated that union must recognize that democracy now must be built on an industrial basis.

"We are concerned now with building a world for the working man," he said.

The convention rejected a proposal that voting membership in the organization be extended to "any person favoring Federal Union in the United States and among other free peoples," and voted to restrict membership to American citizens.

John Howard Ford of Washington, D. C., national treasurer, who favored limitation, said that the union group would not be embarrassed in accounting for contributions if it were able to show any agency investigating it that its supporters were all citizens.

Representative Stephen Day [R., Ill.] has sponsored a resolution in congress that the Streit organization be investigated by the Dies committee. Federal Union, according to some views, might have to register as an alien agency if some of its members and financial support came from outside this country.

Streit, who has been serving as chairman, was elected the first president of Federal Union. Allen D. Albert of Paris, Ill., vice president of the Chicago world's fair of 1933-34, was elected to the national committee.

ROBERT M. BRAND DIES.

Polo, Ill., June 29 [Special].—Robert M. Brand, 75, Polo attorney for nearly 40 years, died of a heart attack at his home yesterday. He received his law degree at Northwestern university in 1893 and practiced in Chicago for 10 years before coming here. He leaves his widow, a daughter, Judith, and a brother, Dr. A. A. Brand of Chicago.

POPE SAYS WAR IS PUNISHMENT FOR SINS OF MAN

Tells People to Expect Justice 'in Due Time.'

VATICAN CITY, June 29 (AP).—Pope Pius XII. today attributed the war to the hand of Divine Providence as punishment for the sins of mankind. He did not specifically mention the Russian-German conflict.

Pope Pius XII.

In a radio broadcast to the world, the pope advised Catholics to "trust in God," who would restore "justice, calm, and peace" in his own due time, "having let the hurricane loose for a moment on humanity."

The pope said that to trust in God means "believing that God can permit at times here below" the "predominance of atheism and impiety, lamentable obscuring of the sense of justice, violation of law, tormenting of innocent, peaceful, undefended, and helpless men."

Trusting in God, the pope said, "means believing that God at times thus lets trials befall individuals and peoples, trials of which the malice of men is the instrument in a design of justice directed toward the punishment of sin, toward purifying persons and peoples thru the expiations of this present life and bringing them back by this way to Himself; but it means believing at the same time that this justice always remains here below—the justice of a father inspired and dominated by love."

All "Directed by Providence."

The pontiff said "nothing in this world escapes God's providence," and added that "nothing great or small happens which is not foreseen, wished, or permitted, directed always by Providence to ends which in this world are always inspired by love for men."

Speaking with vigor, the pope said the "fierce intensity of the trial" would endure "only for a fixed time."

The pontiff, who had announced his speech as a message to the world, singled out Rome and the "whole Italian people" for special blessing before imparting his benediction to all.

He said he knew Rome would not "deny that faith which has made her the mistress of the world and majestic to nations where Christian culture obtains."

Men, the pontiff said, "think of human events in relation to their approximate causes and immediate effect," while "God sees them in their remote causes and judges their remote effects."

"We know well the most serious difficulty for those who have not the correct sense of the Divine comes from seeing so many innocent victims involved in suffering by the same tempest which overwhelms sinners," the pope said.

Love Suffering, People Told.

He then urged the people not merely to accept sufferings with resignation, but to love them, to glory in them, as the Apostles Peter and Paul did in their martyrdom, which the pope's speech commemorated.

"Thru languishing faith in men's hearts, thru pleasure seeking that molds and captivates their lives, men are driven to judge as evil and as unmixed evil all physical mishaps of this earth," the pontiff said.

He added that they forget "the cross is frequently the gift of God which is needed in order to offer to divine justice our share of expiation."

HEADLONG INTO WHAT?

The insane action of the United States senate in passing a 10 billion dollar army appropriation bill in 80 minutes should be like a dash of cold water in the face of a fainting person. It should bring the country back to its senses.

Habits which congress has formed in eight years of the New Deal apparently have incapacitated it for legislative service. The alarms of war have completed the destruction of the legislative check on the executive office.

The disappearance of the conservative Democrats is most conspicuous. Men who thought intelligently and acted wisely have yielded to emotions suffocating their ordinary consideration for the country's welfare. In going overboard for the war they took with them the resistance they had to the insane money policy of the New Deal.

The collectivists knew what they were doing when they drummed up the war. Just when they might have been held to an accounting for their peacetime program, the drums saved them. Collectivism has gone into high speed and communistic control takes over new territory every day.

The senators in their 80 minute consideration of the 10 billion dollar army bill did not discuss its realities and they did not inquire into its purposes. The best experts the various committees have heard emphasized the importance of long range bombers in national defense, and little provision was made for them in the bill. For all the senators knew or cared they were providing money for a long term war in other lands. That is the policy of the administration and the provisions of the army bill are designed for such undertakings.

The senators didn't inquire how the defenses of this country could be best prepared or what it would cost to provide them. They honored the demand of an executive who has run the so-called defense appropriations, including 7 billions of aid to Great Britain, up to about 40 billion dollars. And more is yet to come.

For a year congress has been more than ever dominated by the people who want to use the situation they have created to substitute government management for private management and government money for private money in the business of this country. They have been aided by another minority, which thinks only to act the romantic part in saving the aristocrats of England and the kinglets of Europe. People have been deceived by the war party and deluded by the collectivists. These two elements are being given free rein by the national legislators who could check both of them if they acted as an independent branch of government.

We are in no danger of invasion or wouldn't be if we acted sensibly. We are in very great danger of inflation, crushing economic disorders, revolution, and communism. We are in the hands of men who are taking over private enterprise wherever they can lay their hands on it. These war appropriations are not being used for the defense of the country, but for the expropriation of private industry. If, then, the country is forced into a foreign war, the financial consequences will find the American people in the hands of a totalitarian state which will seem to have been inevitably produced by conditions which could have been avoided.

It is time for the American people to snap out of their feeling of defeat and of the inevitability of evil. It is the history of other people who have been overpowered by autocracy that they didn't see what was coming until it was too late. That can happen here.

HENDERSON, PRICE FIXER.

The cost of manufacturing automobiles is going up. Employés in the industry, using the system of collective bargaining the government sponsored, have been able to get their pay raised several times in the last year. Due to the rearmament demand and aid to Britain, the costs of materials used in making automobiles have gone up. Taxes paid by the automobile companies are much higher than when this year's cars were priced.

There is a further cost increasing factor. Everybody knows there are indirect expenses in automobile making which bring the costs down with an increase in output. These indirect expenses per car in the 1941-'42 season are bound to be higher because the government has ordered the companies to cut down their production in the new season. The curtailment has been placed at 20 per cent, but according to the grapevine it may ultimately be 50 per cent.

Taking account of the increasing costs, several of the automobile companies raised the price of the new models. Leon Henderson, who possesses the title of administrator Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply, thereupon requested the automobile companies to withdraw the price advances. The Chrysler corporation has refused. Henderson, whose title, organizational setup, and functions have never been authorized by congress, has announced that this forces him to establish price ceilings for new automobile models and that this would include manufacturers' and dealers' markups and would probably be extended to trade-in values. As trade-in allowances are determined by the free competitive market for used cars, it would seem that Mr. Henderson is about to determine the price at which every jallopy can be sold.

If it is desirable to have the government fix prices to the extent assumed by Mr. Henderson, then congress should authorize it. The duties, responsibilities, and limitations of the AOPACS ought to be clearly set out in law after careful consideration. In carrying on as he has been, without the slightest statutory authorization, Mr. Henderson seems to be just a little bit ridiculous. Some one sometime was bound to reply to one of his edicts, "Says who?" and no one seems better prepared than the Chrysler corporation to do it, all things considered, including the pre-eminent contribution it is making to the national defense in the form of tanks.

We wonder whether those who would support what Mr. Henderson is trying to do have considered some of the consequences. If auto production is severely curtailed, and prices remain unchanged, obviously some people who wish cars and have the money to buy them will be unable to get them. What then? A "black market" for cars may develop, in which cars can be had for something more than Henderson's quotation. For a time the early riser may get his car, and the late comer be obliged to go without. Eventually, there would have to be rationing of automobiles. But ration cards wouldn't do. All wouldn't get a piece of an automobile. In rationing cars you let Tom buy one and deny Dick and Harry. There is a bright future for the Democratic war committeemen if Leon Henderson has his way. He should be called Lenin Henderson.

YOUNG MEN FOR WAR.

The general staff is carrying out a reclassification of the personnel of the army to weed out inefficient officers. This is welcome news. Such action has been too long delayed, and now that it has been started it is to be hoped that it will be pushed forward with vigor.

The three principal defects that the army is seeking to eliminate are age, lack of training, and lack of ability to lead men. Of these age is in our army the most serious and also the defect most likely to be found in the regular officers who must form the backbone of the army command.

The army has pointed out, most properly, that it is no disgrace to an officer to be reclassified and shifted to a post in which he will not be subjected to the rigors of field service. The shifts will be bitter medicine to men who have given a lifetime of loyal service to their country. The majority of these older officers would still be capable of active duty in most civilian pursuits, but they are not capable of withstanding the strain of modern warfare. That is a young man's game, and its recent developments place increasing premiums on youth.

The United States army has the oldest officer personnel, rank for rank, among those of the world powers. We now have major generals, commanding divisions, who are only 52 years old. This is an improvement on the practice of a few years ago, when a man rarely rose to that rank before he was 60, but the age limit is still too high. Fifty-two should be the maximum, not the minimum, age for active command of troops in all but exceptional cases.

Our colonels now range in age from 56 to 64 years. In the German army the regimental commanders are in their 30's. Their division commanders are in the middle 40's, at which age an American officer has usually been fortunate to rise to the command of a battalion, and their army commanders are in their late 40's and early 50's.

Mobile warfare has increased immensely the strain on the older officer. It is no longer possible for him to establish himself in a fixed post behind the lines. He must keep up with his troops. Men of 55 or 60, no matter how alert they may be mentally, cannot be expected to stand the physical strain of leading tank attacks, as the German General Guderian did in the battle of France.

History as well as current practice teaches the value of youth in army leadership. The great conquerors reached the peak of their ability at 40 or before. At that age Clive had conquered India, Napoleon had won his greatest victories, and Nelson had died at Trafalgar. Wellington was 46 at Waterloo.

Our own Civil war was fought, with the single notable exception of Robert E. Lee, by men under 50. Valiant Winfield Scott, a great general and a great patriot, realized the handicap of his age and turned the command of the army over to younger men when the war started. Grant was 44 when he plunged into the Wilderness, Sherman the same age when he took Atlanta, and Phil Sheridan only 34 at Appomattox.

Lee was 57 years old when he first matched swords with Grant, and the rigors of camp life had already so affected his health that a man of less moral courage would have been forced to relinquish command. Of Lee's three great lieutenants, Jackson died at 40, Jeb Stuart at 32, and Longstreet was 44 at the end of the war.

In the last world war the old generals had their day. That was one reason why it was the greatest slaughter in history.

THE WRONG TIE, P. G.

The German radio announces a new feature. It is to be in the lighter vein, something of a war escape nature. P. G. Wodehouse, the English humorist, will broadcast from Berlin on the amusing side of life in an internment camp. He has been in one ever since the German advance rolled over him at his villa in La Touquet, France. During his year's confinement he completed a new book and the Nazis allowed him to send it to his publishers. He has been permitted the freedom of Berlin.

Mr. Wodehouse may have given the proposal of his German tempters the cream of the Wooster brain before he accepted it, but Jeeves, his butler, must be in the background shaking his head. Jeeves would distinctly advise against that tie. Mr. Wodehouse, a philosopher in his way, doesn't know what war is. He will make a discovery.

Possibly the British will now loosen up and put Rudolf Hess on the air. He might be even funnier.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR THE STATE POLICE.

In naming Lieut. Leo Carr chief of the state highway police force, Gov. Green has obtained the services of an alert and capable officer. The force is badly in need of reorganization. Lieut. Carr and his superior, Safety Director Sullivan, can be depended upon to carry that out efficiently.

The principal duty of the state force is the control of traffic and traffic offenses. That is the branch of police work that is least efficiently handled both in the city and the state. It is inefficient because police neglect to enforce traffic laws—or use them for purposes of extortion.

If Lieut. Carr can achieve an honest enforcement of our traffic laws he will prove it can be done and there will be no excuse for the failure of our county, city, and park police.

CAREER GIRLS IN THE OZARKS.

Noye Tune likes to tell how her 20 year old sister, Alice, came running up to the farmhouse waving the weekly newspaper the mailman had just left. "A factory! A factory right in Mountain View, only eight miles away!" she shouted. "We'll git us jobs!"

"What about the farm?" asked practical 16 year old Noye.

"Run it jis' as we've done since Maw and Paw died. We'll be home in time to feed the pigs and chickens! 'N' the cows . . ."

Alice's plans suddenly bogged down.

"I know!" exclaimed Noye. "We'll trade Cousin Ed the cows for that car o' his'n. He hain't used it much nohow in the last 10 years!"

The trade was made, and in a generous moment Ed offered to teach his cousins how to drive. After the lesson, it is reported, he stopped to chin with a neighbor as he walked home, and said: "Dog my cats, if they's anythin' dumber'n a woman I don't know what 'tis!" He took a mighty chew of tobacco and added, "'Nn I ain't a-keerin' to meet up with hit!"

On the morning the factory opened Noye and Alice drew up at the door, with strange gurgles and rumbles sounding in the innards of the car.

"What happened? Have you girls been in a race?" asked the factory manager, who was unlocking the door.

"No'm," said Alice meekly. "We plumb f'rgot how to gear them shifts, 'r whatever, so we jis' come in low all the way!"

The girls were promptly hired and put to work. At quitting time the manager gave them a lesson in shifting gears. Next morning the car was again overheated, but the girls were jubilant.

"We got her into second," they said proudly. "Some o' these days we're a-goin' to git her into high!"

At noon the rain began. It was still raining at quitting time, but their co-workers' offer of "overnight keep" was turned down by Noye and Alice. The pigs and chickens at the farm had to be looked after. The manager gave more instructions about gear-shifting and started the girls out over the rutted back-country hill roads with much trepidation. Next morning, however, the girls were at work bright and early.

"'T wa'n't no trouble at all," said Alice. "I steered 'n' Noye shifted them gears. It was plumb easy thataway!"

"Could you steer around the mud puddles?"

"Naw," laughed Noye. "We jis' treated 'em all alike. We hit 'em squar' in the middle!"

With the usual hill-person's reticence they made no mention of Grady's crossing, where Jack's Forks had to be forded. Later in the day the manager thought of that spring-fed stream, which becomes a muddy, raging torrent at each rainfall. The girls shrugged off his anxious questions.

"Nothin' to it! We jis' parked the Shivvy up there at Slocum's gate and waded acrost the ford. 'T wan't more 'n' thigh deep. Then we walked on home!"

The manager was aghast. "Walked! In all that mud and rain and in pitch darkness! Why, it's all of three miles from the creek to your house!"

"That's nothin'," laughed Alice. "Jis' two long walks and a setdown. Only we didn't set down none last night!"

The manager thought a moment. "How did you get in this morning?"

"Same way! We et breakfast about 4 o'clock! Got our chores done and packed up our dinners. 'Nn then we walked over to the ford, hiked up our dresses and waded acrost. 'N' when we started up that Shivvy o' our'n in front of Slocum's gate it run sweeter'n a sewin' machine," said Noye proudly. "It was my turn to steer, and boy, did we high-tail it into town!"

The manager started back to his desk, thoughtfully shaking his head.

"Say, mister," called Alice. "Do yuh mind telephonin' over to the Ee-light Dress 'n' Beauty shop? Tell 'em to save that checkered dress in the winder. I'm a-goin' to git me a boughten dress come Saturday!"

"'N' tell 'em to save me one o' their best permanent waves," called Noye. "Us Tune sisters is thru settin' around like we'd soured on the cob."

Editorials of the Day

A STUDY IN RELATIVITY.

[Peoria Journal-Transcript.]

In the opinion of competent medical men and the health authorities of the city of Peoria, there was loose in this community, as this was written, a dog which was under observation as a rabies suspect. The animal already has bitten a 7 year old boy. If the dog is not immediately captured, health authorities say, the boy will be advised to take anti-rabies inoculation. These inoculations are painful. They are attended with some risk.

The dog got loose in Peoria because three women undertook to stage a "dog delivery" at the city pound in protest against animal experimentation which they contend entails suffering on the part of dogs.

Apparently the question thus posed to Peorians is one of relativity in suffering. Even if it be assumed that the charge animals suffer under experimentation is true [a charge denied by medical research workers] the situation presently disclosed here is that if the dog which is a rabies suspect escapes the suffering incidental to death by rabies, and also if it escapes capture and return to the pound, the boy bitten by the dog will certainly not escape the pain and suffering incidental to anti-rabies inoculation.

A STANDARD TOO OFTEN NOT FOLLOWED.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Dr. Joseph W. Moore is a hard-headed parole board chairman. When the application of Fritz Kuhn, former Nazi bund leader, came up before the New York state parole board, Dr. Moore and his colleagues lost no time in rejecting it. Kuhn had served 18 months of his two and one-half to five year sentence, and had a record of good behavior in prison. But altho Kuhn was technically eligible for parole, Dr. Moore saw beyond the technicalities. He said:

"We do not believe his release would be compatible with the welfare of society, the only reason for parole release recognized in the state law. Most of his associations and acquaintances are with persons who are or have been active in anti-democratic activity. He must be regarded as a hazard to the public peace and security."

So indeed he is. But why isn't this admirable standard applied more generally thruout the country? If Kuhn "must be regarded as a hazard to the public peace and security," why not the congenital criminals and mental defectives who are constantly being released by parole boards, only to continue their depredations on society?

BURSITIS—IRRITATION OF A BURSA.

WHAT is a bursa? What does it do? When will it cause pain? These sac like affairs are formed by the dilatation of a lymph space or by the pouring out of fluid into the tissues. The cavity is lined by cells that have the power to secrete liquid. The reason we have so many of them is to provide for the free movement of muscles and tendons, and to lessen friction between hard and soft layers.

This is important in all regions where there is pressure. Therefore, these structures will be found whenever moving parts abound. Furthermore, they occur over the kneecap, the point of the elbow, about joints, and wherever fibrous tendons are attached to bones.

Their number and size depend somewhat on one's occupation. As buffers of necessity, they will develop in certain areas of a blacksmith's body because of the frequent movements of the arms, the shoulder girdle, and the trunk. Those who use the head for the purpose of carrying baskets, etc., will exhibit them beneath the scalp.

Tailors who sit crosslegged will acquire them on the outside of the ankle joints. Many a badly fitting shoe, with ensuing "pinching," will lead to the growth of one or more on the feet. A bunion is made up partially of one of these devices, which arises between the hardened skin and the bone of the great toe. "Tennis elbow" may be irritation of a bursa located over the upper portion of one of the bones of the forearm.

"Bursitis" means inflammation of a bursa. Puffiness, pain, and tenderness are present. When injuries are suffered repeatedly, the walls of the sac will thicken and bleeding may take place into the space reserved for fluid. In such a case, so much fibrin may be deposited that the cavity will be obliterated.

The most common sites for trouble are the knee and the elbow. In ordinary circumstances, two or three of these "pads" lie under the patella [kneecap]. As a result of irritation, they enlarge, the surface becomes warm and red, and may feel "doughy" when touched. Thus the protective character of the cushion is lost thru abuse. Workers who scrub floors on their knees are likely to be ready victims, which explains the term, "housemaid's knee."

Those who lean on the table habitually—either at mealtime or when engaged in study [medical students are, of course, exempt]—may manifest a red, painful, fluctuating swelling at the elbow.

Simple cases may recede readily under a rest program. The overlying chapped or cracked skin should be cleansed thoroly. This precaution is necessary because occasionally bacteria will move in—with damage to the soft parts and, in some instances, with destruction of the bone. Avoiding the maneuver that is responsible for the pressure, for two or three weeks, will bring recovery. If the trouble recurs again and again, however, and a suitable felt pad will not help, surgical removal [lining and all] may be advised.

When hemorrhage takes place into one of these sacs, the liquid will either absorb or form an abscess. Here, too, it is essential that the epidermis be kept clean and well sterilized. Sometimes drainage will be demanded. Otherwise, in the event that pus gathers, it may bore its way to the outside of the body, and in doing so may destroy the tissues in the neighborhood.

Heat and rest, however, will do more for an acute attack than surgery. As absorption takes place discomfort will recede. But when repeated bouts appear, we may be forced to invite the aid of an expert to rout out the offender completely.

TWINS' CHILDREN.

D. S. writes: My friends tell me that one twin is always sterile. Since my twin sister is already a mother, I am worried. I am going to be married in the fall. How can I break this news to my fiancé?

REPLY.

How do such strange notions get started? Most twins are perfectly normal and equally fertile. Don't break anything to your fiancé—much less your engagement.

PORK WORM.

G. H. writes: Can a pork worm infection be detected by a blood test?

REPLY.

In part. The circulation shows an excess of cells, known as eosinophils. A skin reaction has also been developed. There should be no difficulty, however, in arriving at an accurate diagnosis, as the symptoms are so typical.

LIGHTS FOR THE FOURTH.

Evanston, Ill., June 28.—Wouldn't it be a good idea for all of us to take our Christmas lights out of the attic and string them over trees and window boxes for the Fourth of July celebration? Just think how beautiful that would be with everything in full bloom and it should be another way of showing how grateful we are for living here.

It would be nice to have the lights on for the eve of the Fourth and for several nights afterward.

Well, I don't care if the rest of you don't do it, I will! GUSSIE B. WARD.

BLAMES THE MOTORISTS.

Evanston, Ill., June 24.—I have read Roseland's Kiwanis club president's views on Rock Island railway street crossings at 119th street, etc. I wonder if he ever figured that the city, county, or state governments might have some responsibility in protecting the dear motorists from these railway monsters.

Judging from the number of street vehicles that use the crossings as compared to the number of trains, it would seem that the motorists' tax dollars should foot about 99 per cent of the cost and that public authority, rather than the railroads, should install crossing protective devices.

Let the Kiwanis club president note the motorists' utter disregard of speed laws, that 35,000 persons were killed and 1,320,000 injured last year by automobiles. Assuming Kiwanis club president's remaining life span is 33 years, does he realize that at this rate he has one chance in three of being injured in an automobile "accident"? Here is a condition to get really indignant about.

FAIR PLAY.

APPEAL TO A MOTORIST.

Chicago, June 23.—Five years ago this July 3, my husband was killed at 35th and Kedzie avenue. From the day my husband died to this day nothing has been done or said to get the motorist that snatched his life.

I am writing this letter to see if the man or woman who killed my husband could possibly be found so that I might be helped to raise my four children. It's horrible enough that the children's father is gone forever, but not to have any one to show any effort whatsoever in assisting me is an almost cruel thing.

I would like to be able to write about our last five years in this column, but this would be so overwhelming to you and most heartbreaking to me that I would rather make it brief as I have done; for it probably would be irksome. C. H.

A VISITOR IS SHOCKED.

Chicago, June 26.—A visitor in your fair city for a few days, I have been amazed—yes, shocked—at the attitude of your paper in the present emergency. It is an attitude you will not be proud of in days to come. Your contemptible cartoon of yesterday!

A united America is imperative. A daily paper in a great city has a great responsibility. LUELLA C. METCALF.

HEROES; NOW COPPERHEADS.

Chicago, June 27.—What a difference a year makes! The Finns were heroes in 1939-'40. Now I suppose they are "copperheads."

And La Guardia wants us to make bombers to lease-lend Russia to blow Finland to heaven. C. WILSON.

LONDON WOMAN IN WARTIME.

Lake Bluff, Ill., June 25.—I think these extracts from a letter recently received from a lady of fashion, who complains of how dull her life is in wartime in London, should be published. She writes:

"I don't go out much excepting an occasional lunch with friends. I read a lot and shop and see to my affairs and do my own shopping to a fair extent [formerly all these things were done for her] or "pop" into a cinema or go for a walk with my Peke, and so time passes quickly somehow."

Of her daughters she says: "Isobel lives in Devonshire. She seems happy working in the garden and going for walks with the dogs, and loves the quiet life after traveling all over the world."

Not one word of war work of any kind, while silly American women work their silliier heads off begging, cleaning, and mending clothes for them.

Of another daughter she says: "She is doing a spot of work—telephone—for the government, but the pay is wretched. I lead a dull life and am extremely lonely." Does this sound like the warring England we hear so much of in the deadly propaganda we have poured into us? These people are wealthy, living in Grosvenor Square, and do not need wages for this young girl. She is being paid, but we give under the lend-lease.

It is perhaps a little late, but the day may still be saved and we can do our bit, each of us, to awaken Americans before it is too late. I am definitely not "all out" for Britain. I am "all out" for the United States. Can't we start an "All Out for America" campaign?

I just wrote Senator Wheeler and F. D. R. ANNE K. FREEMAN.

SENDING A "SUB" TO ITS DOOM.

Hammond, Ind., June 28.—About the disaster to the O-9 submarine, when these politicians in Washington sent that 20 year old tub down in 420 feet of water: When I was in the navy in the World war they would send them out to be tested and along with them a mother ship and two large cranes. They would put the "sub" in 100 feet of water for about 20 minutes: then they would call them up and send them to where the water was 200 feet deep and if nothing happened the "sub" was marked O. K. When they sent these young Americans down in that tub, the O-9, it was murder in the first degree. W. S. H.

BARBARIAN IN [illegible] 1941.

Chicago, June 25.—Perhaps it is meet to recall the words of Alfred Tennyson:

How long, O God, shall men be ridden down
And trampled under by the last and least
Of men? The heart of Poland hath not ceased
To quiver, tho her sacred blood doth drown
The fields, and out of every smouldering town
Cries to Thee, lest brute Power be increased,
'Till that o'ergrown barbarian in the east
Transgress his ample bound to some new crown—
Cries to Thee, "Lord, how long shall these things be?
How long this icy-hearted Muscovite
Oppress the region?" Us, O just and good,
Forgive, who smiled when she was torn in three:
Us, who stand now, when we should aid the right—
A matter to be wept with tears of blood!
O, pardon me, I forgot, Russia is a great democracy. ROBERT SHOEMAKER.

1. The place is verbally contracted to be sold at one-third the price down and expected to move in June 7—and have abstract drawn same day. One daughter will stay until they move in.

2. If our furniture is not all moved out before abstract drawn [3] does it go with house? I understand an inventory is to be taken.

4. Is this of the house and land alone?

5. I understand it can't be sold for a year after death and only rented until then.

6. Is there anything wrong? B. L.

1. Under the statute of frauds an oral agreement for the sale of real estate is not legally enforceable.

2. Are we to assume that you are the owner of the furniture in the building?

3. Not necessarily.

200 BILLS AWAIT ACTION ON FINAL LEGISLATIVE DAY

Windup Session May Run Well Into Night.

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 29.—The 62d Illinois general assembly will wind up its regular session business tomorrow and go home for the rest of the biennium unless Gov. Dwight H. Green finds it necessary to summon a special session during the remaining 18 months for which its members were elected to office.

The closing day, according to all observers and prospective participants, will be a busy but a dreary one. In spite of the assertions of some leaders during the proceedings last week that it will be possible for both houses to complete their chores in time for that rare accomplishment, a daylight adjournment, there is a general belief that the business will drag into the night and possibly require once more the midnight setting back of the officials' clocks.

Some 200 Bills Remaining.

That is because there are subject to action in the two chambers approximately 200 bills, most of them relatively minor, and about half of them due to die on the calendars, but disposition of the other half will require a tedious procedure of roll call after roll call even if the debate is not prolonged.

It is also true that there are unusually large numbers of bills subject to final joint action, meaning frequently the appointment of conference committees which are notably slow about getting into action.

In other words, one house or the other has amended bills passed at the other end of the statehouse. That requires concurrence by the house of origin or, if that is refused, recession by the house that did the amending. If neither of these developments occurs it means a conference committee in each instance.

30 Bills in State of Suspense.

R. R. Randolph, clerk of the house of representatives, estimated today that there are between 25 and 30 bills in this state of suspense, which means a tremendous amount of business off the floors of the chambers before final action is taken.

The indications are that when all is over, despite slow speed in the introduction of bills and in action on them, the total number of bills sent to the governor will be about the average for regular six months' sessions. This assembly was inducted into office on Jan. 8, made a slow start at work on Jan. 13, has sat parts of 25 weeks, and the records show there will have been 78 legislative days.

All of the highly controversial bills came up late in the session and brought on a five day filibuster by the Democrats because of Gov. Green's efforts to pass the Schnackenberg bill which they branded as a "smear bill" aimed at assailing their party thru attacks on the local governments of Chicago and Cook county which they control. Since the Democrats won the victory coöperation has existed in both houses and no real revival of the temporary hostilities is expected on the final day.

Doubt Overriding Attempt.

It is understood that Representative S. O. Dale [R., Fairfield], whose bills to refuse state professional licenses to aliens were vetoed by Governor Green last night, is inclined to accept the situation without opening a fight on the floor. It is probable that he will not make any effort to override the veto on any of the bills. Such an attempt, requiring a two-thirds vote in each house, would be regarded as doomed to failure.

No real battle is expected on bills that have to go to conference committees. The most important of these from the standpoint of public interest is the one to control betting bookmakers thru license, and it is believed a compromise is certain on this.

The bill as redrafted by the senate included a provision that each of the three members of the appeals board in every city authorizing bookmaking shall receive $3,000 a year. This is considered too high by cities that may have only one or two bookies and the naming of the salary is scheduled for elimination by agreement in conference.

Nine Injured in Derailment of 5 Car New Jersey Train

Farmingdale, N. J., June 29 [Special].—A five car Pennsylvania railroad train bound from Long Branch to Trenton with 75 passengers was derailed tonight with nine persons reported injured. The locomotive, a baggage car and three passenger coaches left the track just south of the station here, but only the locomotive overturned. The train went thru a jump switch.

HORSE BOOKIES AWAIT ACTION ON LICENSE BILL

Measure Runs Race with Adjournment.

Handbook operators are awaiting news from Springfield on the photo finish of legislation to legalize bookie shops. They'll not know the result until today—but the Nitti gang was reported to be ready to act if the measure is approved.

The bill to permit cities to license men to take bets on horse races has passed both the house and the senate in Springfield. A conference is required today to discuss changes each assembly branch wants made in the measure.

Session to End Today.

The session is to end today, and it is possible the legislators may not hold the conference. Even if the legislature finally approves the bill, there remains the question of whether Gov. Green will sign it, veto it, or let it become a law without his signature.

State's Attorney Courtney has recommended that Gov. Green veto the bill. Courtney's chief investigator, Capt. Dan Gilbert, reported that the syndicate, headed by Frank [The Enforcer] Nitti, expects to profit most thru legislation of handbooks.

"I understand the syndicate is ready to do business on a large scale," Gilbert said. "They have their fingers on choice locations and would use persons without criminal records to obtain licenses for them."

Mayor Kelly would not say what, if anything, the city will do if handbooks become legal. Several aldermen said, however, that the mayor presumably will call a special meeting of the council to pass an ordinance to regulate and license the books.

HIT BY MYSTERY BULLET TAKING PHOTO OF BABY

Joseph Wollschlager poised his camera yesterday to take a snapshot of his daughter, Emilie Louise, 5 weeks old, in the yard of his home at 8837 May street. A shot rang out and Wollschlager fell, wounded in the back with a bullet. He was taken to Little Company of Mary hospital, where physicians said he probably will recover.

His wife, Emilie, told police she knew no reason why any one would wish to shoot her husband. She said Wollschlager is 28 years old and is a bookkeeper for the Chicago Bridge and Iron company, 1305 West 105th street.

Sergt. James Daley of the Gresham station found a tin can which had been punctured by bullets in the alley at the rear of Wollschlager's home. It was believed a neighborhood boy had been shooting at the tin can and fled after shooting Wollschlager accidentally.

Woman Leaps to Safety as Car Stalls on Track

A car being driven by Mrs. Helen Huntington, 23 years old, 10337 Throop avenue, stalled yesterday in front of a freight train on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at 104th street. As the train raced toward her, she stepped out, turned her head, shut her eyes, and put her fingers over her ears. When she looked around the automobile was a pile of wreckage.

Ravinia Music for Children Charms Adults

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Frederick Stock and the Chicago Symphony orchestra presented at Ravinia park yesterday what was ostensibly a children's concert. Yet many of us showed up who can no longer by any stretch of the imagination be considered children—in the physical sense, at least.

It was good sport to be there. Our great brains could rest and our great hearts be still while the orchestra was flooding the peaceful park with the ear tickling tunes of Nicolai's "Merry Wives of Windsor" overture and Saint-Saëns' "Danse Macabre."

Two or three times, it is true, the adult psyche in all its majesty was called upon to attend to music which the child mind could not be expected fully to grasp. Such music was the air from Bach's third orchestral suite. Also the gavotte from the same, which is one of the most exalted expressions of godlike joy in all Bach's music.

No one who takes any pride in his grasp of the obvious could omit mention of the fitness of Wagner's "Forest Murmurs" to the scenes amid which it was played yesterday. The trees beside the little pavilion have a way of leaning inward, as if anxious not to miss a note.

At the end of the afternoon came a performance of "The Stars and Stripes Forever" so tingling and so compelling as to suggest that both conductor and orchestra, should they ever tire of their present life, could carve out a distinguished career for themselves as a military band. By far the biggest ovation of the afternoon followed the march.

Dr. Stock salted and peppered the program with many an explanatory remark. He took pieces of music apart and put them together again before our ears. He tried to make the audience sing, but he did not seem to care much for our singing. This fact, alas, is no reflection on his critical sense.

This was the second of the two preseason concerts of the 1941 Ravinia festival. The festival proper begins tomorrow evening with Sir Thomas Beecham making his Chicago debut as conductor.

A Hand Crocheted Tie

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

One of the nicest hand crocheted ties, enjoying wide popularity because of the stitch and stability, is this good looking bit of neckwear crocheted in a "crazy stitch." It is easy to create, it does not stretch, and will not lose its shape when crocheted from a No. 10 mercerized cotton. There are numerous silk and mercerized twists which may be used instead of the cotton.

Universal day—Make the necessary adjustments today without complaint.

July—Those who are in a nine year may feel that the month of July represents the low period for the year. The best way to get thru this period is to fortify yourself by a quiet and restful vacation. If this is not possible, then keep as much out of the thick of things as possible. Avoid breaking off with others unless you have come to the conclusion that you will be better off and that the break is necessary. This being the winding up year and this month representing the lonely seven, you may feel misunderstood and at odds with the world. Be philosophical and remember that progress comes thru change. Two Park Flower Shows to Be Opened Tomorrow

William Blaesing, acting chief horticulturist of the Chicago park district, announced yesterday that the district's 29th annual summer flower show will be opened tomorrow at Garfield and Lincoln park conservatories. Thousands of Rex begonias and fancy leaved caladiums will be featured.

Polish Council Urges Speedy Red Cross Aid to Exiles in Siberia

In view of the United States' altered relations with soviet Russia, the Polish American council has once more appealed to the American Red Cross to aid the Polish population exiled in Siberia from Russian occupied Poland, it was revealed by F. X. Swietlik, president, yesterday.

The appeal was sent by telegram to Norman H. Davis, chairman of the American Red Cross in Washington, D. C. "The council feels that the American Red Cross is the one agency thru which this aid can be speedily and effectively rendered," the telegram stated. "We fully appreciate that heretofore the American Red Cross for reasons best known to it was unable to extend aid to these Polish exiles in Russia. Today the situation has undergone a radical change and the considerations impelling your former position no longer exist."

The council pledged itself to furnish the Red Cross with substantial funds necessary for immediate aid to the exiles, it stated.

TWO HOUSEWIVES— but what a difference!

Mrs. A is not having a permanent. She's just working in her kitchen. Those wires have to be like that—because she's never even heard of "Special Appliance Circuits"!
Mrs. B is smart—she has had Special Appliance Circuits installed. Notice how neat and efficient her kitchen is. All the appliances work at top efficiency, too.
New Special Appliance Circuits mean neat, efficient kitchens
Special Appliance Circuit with one duplex outlet
$10.25
(First floor installation)
Installations on other floors slightly higher. One additional duplex outlet in same plate, only $1.
Experienced housewives know that you can't work efficiently in a kitchen criss-crossed with dangling wires. They are quick to realize the value of installing Special Appliance Circuits, because they make meal-getting easier in two ways:
1. Save time and annoyance by doing away with wire stringing.
2. Provide sufficient electrical energy to operate several appliances at once—at top efficiency.
This is especially important in summer, when many housewives use a fan in addition to their regular electrical kitchen appliances.

BY JUDITH CASS.

At a tea at home in Winnetka on Saturday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Edwin P. Price announced the engagement of their daughter, Frances, to Lieut. Clinton Edward Frank, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Frank of Evanston. The announcement will not surprise any of Miss Price and Lieut. Frank's friends, for he has been a devoted suitor for several years. Saturday's party was given for Sangston Hettler Jr. and his bride of a few weeks ago, the former Janet Davis.

Miss Price, who was presented to society in the fall of 1935, attended Mount Vernon seminary and the Finch school. Her fiancé is a graduate of Yale university and was noted as captain of its football team and All-American star for two years. He is stationed now at Goodfellow field in San Angelo, Tex., where he and Miss Price will be at home after their marriage on July 26.

Lieut. Frank came to Chicago for the week-end. Miss Price's brother, Edwin P. Price Jr., and his wife will come from Pasadena, Cal., for the wedding, arriving about July 12. Only the families will witness the ceremony, to be held in the Price home, and intimate friends have been invited for a reception following.

Adelaide McCreary's Debut to Be Sept. 10.

So many debut parties have been planned for the first few days of September that there is an occasional mix-up of dates among the families who plan to introduce their daughters at that time. The James Bernard Mullens had reserved the Onwentsia club sometime ago for Friday, Sept. 5, for a party for their debutante, Modrea, so the Robert N. McCrearys, who wanted to give a dinner-dance there that night for Debutante Adelaide McCreary, have changed to Wednesday, Sept. 10.

The Mullens haven't decided yet whether the party for Miss Mullen will be an afternoon or an evening one, but as soon as Mrs. Mullen returns from the east they will complete their plans. Miss Mullen will continue her studies at the Art institute in the fall. Miss McCreary is to enter Mills college, in California.

Plan Double Party for Blanche and Peggy Hoyt.

The junior N. Landon Hoyts are hoping to have a debut party for their daughters, Miss Blanche and Miss Peggy, in the old family home on the lake front in Winnetka before it is torn down. There has been so much illness in the family, however, that Mrs. Hoyt hasn't yet been able to make any definite plans. Several generations of the Hoyt family have occupied the house, in which the Hoyts' daughters grew up. It was decided just recently that Peggy would share the party with her elder sister. The girls are just a year apart, and Peggy will enter college, probably Smith, in the fall, when Blanche returns to Pine Manor.

Sept. 6 is the date of a dance Mrs. Margaret Von Maur Hopkins and Farley A. Hopkins will give in Lake Forest for their debutante daughter, Miss Shirley Hopkins. A small dinner will precede the dance. The debutante is a granddaughter of James M. Hopkins. His stepdaughters and their husbands, the junior Charles S. Deweys and the Garfield Kings, will give a dance at the Shore Acres on July 19 for Miss Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hixon are planning a small dinner before the Dewey-King dance for Miss Hopkins and Miss Lana Jelke. These two young women and Miss Dudley Winston will be the especial guests at a buffet luncheon and day in the coun-

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Diary of a Movie Correspondent.

Hollywood, Cal., June 29.—Sunday—To Ensenada, Mexico, and past the Caliente track where Hollywoodians go for their Sunday races. Ensenada made a brave play for movie hotshots in the days when there was gambling. It made a bid for yachting parties to anchor in its lovely harbor, and it built a fabulous hotel and casino with fabulously feelthy paintings behind the bar. It tried to outstrip the glories of Caliente, but never quite made the grade. Today, Ensenada is a sleepy Mexican town.

Monday—Back thru customs to the United States, where the border guards are agreeable. Then for a bit of catching up. . . . Rosalind Russell, who'll free lance after her M.-G.-M. contract is up in August, is being sought by Paramount for "Take A Letter, Darling," in which she'll be a business woman with Fred MacMurray for a secretary. . . . David Rose, Paramount's managing director in London, is here looking for an actor to go to Britain and play in "The Admirable Crichton." [Remember, De Mille once made it as "Male and Female"?] Rose would prefer getting Ronald Colman. . . . Tyrone Power has bought a new plane—and 20th Century-Fox has bought John Shelton from M.-G.-M.

Tuesday—To Metro. The house for "The Yearling"—duplicate of the one on the Florida location—has been taken down and stored away. Among other big sets standing are the cake-frosting decor for "The Chocolate Soldier" and a dirt floor gambling tent operated by Gable in "Honky Tonk." Up in one end of the tent is Lana Turner's barber shop. She trims suckers' hair, turns them over to Clark for an operation on their wallets.

Wednesday—To Universal to watch Deanna Durbin lure Charles Laughton. Charles is a very old man and Deanna lures him right out of his deathbed and makes him decide to get well by playing the piano and singing. They've been two days on this one scene, with Laughton tottering repeatedly to a balcony, because Miss Durbin has to act, play and sing—and make the whole business fit a previously made sound track. . . . Speaking of Laughton, Paramount will reissue "Ruggles of Red Gap." You can look for a lot of reissues between now and September because just before the consent decree becomes effective there'll be a picture shortage.

Thursday—To Universal again, to watch Olsen and Johnson make their first "Hellzapoppin" scene, and Chic Johnson tells me he's a big dairy man now, having bought a Carmel, N. Y., farm and stocked it with prize cattle from the world's fair. He should be okay with cows because he's been milking gags for 20 years.

Friday—The B-19 is finally launched and many movie folk have tickets to the stand. Clark Gable was invited, but the studio wouldn't give him time off—so he played hookey and went anyway. . . Interesting angle on Gene Tierney's father's litigation with 20th Century-Fox over her contract. He incorporated his family years ago, before there was any thought of Gene's becoming an actress. He also had himself appointed his daughter's guardian. The corporation signed Gene's contract with the studio—and it was one of the stiffest on record for a newcomer—and charges her 25 per cent of her income. Out of this, however, it pays her expenses. . . Gene turns in a very detailed report of each day's doings, which the corporation scans. Once, for instance, she visited the studio while off the pay roll and chatted with an actor. The corporation demanded her regular pay for that day, claiming she was contributing professional services . . . Gene's marriage to Oleg Cassini ended the guardianship, the studio will claim, and marked her coming-of-age. Twentieth Century-Fox lawyers will claim it's okay for the studio to make a new contract directly with its star.

Saturday—A day at the desk.

Good Morning!

When lovely Myrna Loy descends to slapstick—she's still lovely. But you do wish—well—you DO wish . . . !

And the same for the not so lovely, but quite as clever, William Powell.

The picture introduces the twain as a true married pair about to celebrate a wedding anniversary. . . . The celebration meets interference in the person of a fair former flame of Mr. Ireland, whom he encounters—as how the movie shall show you. Mrs. Ireland starts divorce proceedings. . . . Mr. Ireland consults his lawyer who advises him to feign lunacy as a means of delaying matters. [Five years, it seems, must elapse before marital bonds to an insane person can be legally severed].

And now—to a lunatic asylum where nothing particularly unexpected to the observer occurs. . . . There follows, of course, THE ESCAPE with attendant complications. . . . And then, equally of course, a H. E.

Acting and direction are more than adequate to the story. Miss Loy charms as usual. And IS Gail Patrick gorgeous! My dears, her CLOTHES!

See you tomorrow.

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

A woman who makes the most exquisite of perfumes and sachets did something for suffering humanity when she made up what she invitingly calls a "cooling" lotion. It's for the feet, and it's sheer manna from heaven on blistering days.

The lotion is a cool green in color, with a fragrance in which the menthol note dominates. The bottle has a shaker top. All you do when your feet need relief is sprinkle a few drops over the surface—you're advised to use the lotion rather sparingly—and then massage the tender skin gently. It will feel cool at first, then you'll notice that the feet tingle like everything. When this recedes they'll feel wonderfully cool and refreshed — and that sensation will linger for hours.

We found this a grand lotion to have around during the heat wave. Use it in the morning before you trot out on the steamy pavements. Then, if it's fearfully hot and your shoes are not too comfortable, use it again before you go out at noon. You'll enjoy your lunch more than you otherwise would. Use it again at night and you'll have enjoyed one day much freer than usual of the burning discomfort hot weather invariable provokes.

NO INTERVENTION

In a speech on Oct. 23, 1940, President Roosevelt said:

"To Republicans and Democrats, to every man, woman and child in the nation I say:

"Your President and your great secretary of state are following the road to peace.

"We are arming ourselves not for any foreign war.

"We are arming ourselves not for any purposes of conquest or intervention in foreign disputes.

"It is for peace I have labored; and it is for peace I shall labor all the days of my life."

Luncheon at U. of C. Tomorrow to Mark Harper Anniversary

Fifteen hundred guests of the University of Chicago board of trustees tomorrow noon will mark the fiftieth anniversary of the arrival of Dr. William Rainey Harper in Chicago to begin the erection of the university. Dr. Harper began his duties as president of the university on July 1, 1891.

At tomorrow's luncheon in Ida Noyes hall, Paul Vincent Harper, eldest son of the founding president, will receive a specially bound volume of a biography of his father which was published by the university for the purpose. Harper will receive the volume on behalf of his 84 year old mother, unable because of illness to attend.

Dr. Maude Slye, noted for her cancer research and one time secretary to Dr. Harper, and Dr. Shailer Mathews, dean emeritus of the divinity school of the university, will be principal luncheon speakers.

Papal Delegate Urges Eastern Church: Join Us

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States, in a sermon yesterday called for reunion of the 160 million Greek and other Eastern Orthodox Christians of the world with the world's 400 million Catholics.

Preaching to a vast congregation overflowing St. Nicholas' Ukrainian Catholic church, 2238 Rice street, the apostolic delegate cited only one point of doctrine which separates Eastern and Roman communions other than recognition of the primacy of the pope. He praised the beauty of the oriental rites and the faithfulness of Eastern Christians to the Eucharist, especially as celebrated in the closing mass yesterday of the first national Eucharistic congress of the Eastern Rite Catholic churches.

Archbishop Cicognani described the Eucharist as a mark of unity whether offered under oriental or Latin rites, but he cited one "dogmatic error" into which "some of the dissidents of the east have fallen."

This variation from Latin and Eastern Catholic rites is the belief, the archbishop said, that "the transubstantiation of the bread and wine into the body and blood of Jesus Christ takes place not when the priest announces the words of Jesus, 'This is my body,' 'This is my blood,' but at the invocation of the Holy Ghost which follows, the so-called 'epiclesis.'"

The colorful mass, with its splendor of Byzantine ceremonial and Ukrainian music, was celebrated by the Most Rev. Constantine Bohachevsky, bishop of Amissus and ordinary of the Ukrainian Greek Catholic church of the United States. Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch presided from a special red archepiscopal throne on the gospel side of the sanctuary, opposite the papal delegate's throne with its white and gold canopy and hangings.

Paid Companion

[Copyright: 1941: By Elizabeth York Miller]

SYNOPSIS.

Orphaned since childhood, Celia Ames, 22, has no one to whom she can turn when she loses her job. In her loneliness she has fallen in love with Val Quentin, a fellow boarder, but as he owes her money she cannot borrow from him and, too, she is beginning to doubt his sincerity. She runs into Felicity Stanmore, an old schoolmate whom Celia mothered in convent days. Felicity, 4 years her junior, is motherless and her Aunt May Allison looks after her. Her father, Sir Martin Stanmore, is only 39, and is handsome and rich. Felicity invites Celia to her home for the week-end and confides in Celia that she is in love. Much to Celia's surprise, the man turns out to be Val, who at first pretends he doesn't know Celia. When Celia goes back to her boarding house she discovers that Val has pawned her jewelry. Val explains he thought it all right to borrow the jewelry as he looked upon Celia as his wife and would have married her long ago if he hadn't been compelled to live off the money his divorced wife sent him. Celia realizes how despicable he is and is cured of her love for him. Sir Martin offers the job of companion to Felicity and manager of his home while Miss Allison is on vacation. But she finds the job difficult for when Felicity shows an engagement ring Val gave her, telling her he pawned his own mother's jewelry to buy it, Celia tries to tell Felicity of Val's unworthiness but Felicity only thinks Celia is jealous. Then, too, Miss Allison has left the entire job of housekeeper on her hands. Felicity brings forbidden cocktails to her room. Celia throws them out but Sir Martin enters and, seeing the empty glasses, suspects Celia of conniving with Felicity in her disobedience. Felicity is honest enough to tell him it wasn't Celia's fault. Celia finds herself falling in love wth Sir Martin and trying hard to save Felicity from Val.

INSTALMENT XIX.

A RIVAL.

Even now Felicity had her half fooled.

If she were wrong, and it wasn't an elopement that was being planned, for which Felicity wanted to pay her own share of the expense, and if Valentine Quentin had not started the borrowing racket with her—what was it, then?

"You're quite, quite sure you won't let me buy you just one teeny, weeny little dress?" Felicity wheedled. "Something that costs practically nothing?"

She was going to move heaven and earth to win that bet with her father.

"I'm awfully sorry, dear, but I am very sure."

"Then I think I'll buy it without your permission."

"That would be cheating."

Felicity sighed. "It's over a week before I get my allowance," she said mournfully. "And such a lot of things can happen in a week. I—I almost wish Auntie May were back. I could get it out of her."

And then she rushed at Celia in a burst of contrition.

"O, what a pig I am! You know I didn't mean that. Celia, tell me you know I didn't mean it. Tell me I haven't hurt your feelings."

Celia laughed and stroked her hair. She was such a baby, really. If only she knew what a baby she was, and what a job for everybody who loved her to handle.

Apparently the pawnshop as a means to "raising the ready" had not as yet occurred to her. But as Val was in the plot—whatever it might be—that might not be very long delayed. Time, it seemed, was important.

Val was coming to dinner. Felicity told Celia as a sort of afterthought. "I rang up Daddy and asked him to bring Sandy for you, darling. Of course Sandy belongs to me—I use him as a sort of 'stand-in' for Val—but I'm not greedy."

"Thank you," Celia said uneasily.

"I told Daddy I'd asked Val, and I told him I was feeling like a cat on hot bricks and I'd lost my bet, and he'd have to take us some place afterwards."

Celia wondered what Martin had said, but Felicity did not inform her.

She felt like a cat on hot bricks herself. Almost she wished she had let Felicity win the bet.

"Where would we be going afterwards?" she asked.

Immediately she divined Celia's trouble.

"Darling, I could lend you something. You could run tucks under the flounces—I know the very dress. And you take fours in shoes, don't you?"

"Good lor', you don't want me to cheat, do you? I can't eat my cake and keep it," Celia said valiantly. "But I'd rather not go, if you don't mind."

That wasn't exactly true. She wanted to go because Martin Stanmore would go along, and she hated it because of Val and because all she had to wear was a choice between the old black velvet and the dress she had bought at the guinea shop.

"I think you are perfectly wicked, Celia Ames!" Felicity cried. "Do you want to break up the whole party?"

"O dear, of course I don't—but you do get me into embarrassing corners," Celia said with a provoked laugh. "All right—but if I look awful and disgrace you, don't blame anybody but yourself."

"You couldn't look anything but heavenly if you tried," said Felicity. Her eyes narrowed craftily. "Gosh, I've thought of something," she murmured under her breath, and dashed out of the room.

In spite of herself, Celia was excited over the prospect of the evening's outing. For one thing she wouldn't have the responsibility of Felicity, and for another she would be with Martin Stanmore where there was music and dancing.

He had been in her mind all day, from the moment she found his violets on the tea tray; sometimes crowded a little into the background, but always there. So Val thought she would try to get her hooks into Martin, and had warned Felicity. In its own way, that was quite good fun. Celia Ames would have needed to be an angel straight from the pearly gates of heaven not to have felt a little the need to get her own back where Valentine Quentin was concerned. She was human enough to hope she could give him a thoroly bad time tonight, and to accomplish that worthy object she really had no need to do anything at all, except be herself. But she felt she could have been herself a little better in more distinguished raiment.

How tiresome it was to be both proud and stubborn. After all, Felicity was her friend—and what was a borrowed dress between friends? But the nice ethics of the 10 pound bet between Felicity and her father threw borrowing out of court. It would be "heads I win" for Martin and Celia, and "tails I lose," for generous hearted Felicity.

They went to their respective rooms to dress, but not before there had been alterations to the evening's plans. There always were alterations, for as Celia was fast learning, the Stanmores were like that.

"Daddy rang up again," Felicity said. "He thinks we ought to be six to make it an even number, so he's asked Myra Sturgis. O, and we're not dining at home. We're going to the Orange club—latish. Don't bother about the dinner ordered here. I've told Stevens."

"Who is Myra Sturgis?" Celia asked.

Felicity giggled. "Auntie May's bete noire. The prettiest, cutest little American widow you ever saw in your life. Boy—and has she got what it takes!"

"O!" Celia said faintly. "And—and doesn't Miss Allison like her?"

"Silly! Anybody Daddy likes—any woman, I mean—Auntie May hates like poison."

Celia gulped and let it go at that.

Alone in her room, she got out the guinea gown and the black velvet, and immediately it was woefully apparent that the black velvet was out. Where you sat down there was a symmetrical round shiny patch about the size of a dinnerplate, of which Celia had been conscious before. The material was not of a quality that was meant for hard wear. It even bulged a little in that spot. She flung it from her, revolted. Imagine standing up to dance with a thing like that.

And even the new dress wasn't a great deal better for the purpose required, altho it would have passed muster very nicely at a vicarage tea party. The background was a rather trying shade of pale blue with a pattern of flowers in various shades of pink spattered over it. It had elbow sleeves and a round school-girl neck set off with an atrocious paste ornament. Really, she must have been out of her head when she bought the thing. Savagely she began to rip off the ornament, which was like a miniature breastplate, and being in a temper the scissors slipped and she cut a jagged gash in the material.

Celia flung herself weeping and regardless on to the brocaded satin counterpane of the bed that was fit only for a duchess to sleep in.

Really, life was completely dreadful. As tho Myra Sturgis wasn't enough—"the prettiest, cutest, little American widow you ever saw in your life!" Martin Stanmore liked her so much that Auntie May hated her.

"Men don't have to encourage me very much before I fall in love with them," Celia told herself acidly. "Next thing, I'll be imagining Sandy's in love with me. If he so much as asks me to dance, I'll be sure of it. Ha!"

But of course, she wasn't going now. This fresh disaster completely put the lid on it. However carefully it was mended, that ragged gash would show a scar, and she had nothing to hide it with, unless she restored the glittering breastplate.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Gooseberries and currants have such a brief season that the homemaker with jellymaking ideas can't afford to "wait until they're a little cheaper." While she's waiting they'll vanish from the market. And then won't she be sorry! I know, because I've let it happen to me.

Both fruits are the kind that combine beautifully with other fruit flavors, and they have the ability to make jelly out of non-jellable fruits. These are some of my favorite currant and gooseberry jellies:

Currant Jelly.

Buy currants which are partly underripe, if possible, for underripe fruit contains more pectin and will jell more readily. Mash berries somewhat to start the flow of juices. Heat until good and juicy, but this will require only a few minutes. Strain thru jelly bag. For every cup of juice measure a cup of sugar. Combine juice and sugar and boil as rapidly as possible without scorching, until two drops of sirup will run together at the end of a spoon dipped into the liquid and will hang there for a moment before dropping. Pour immediately into clean, hot glasses and seal with paraffin. Be careful not to overcook.

Currant and Blueberry Jelly.

Combine equal parts blueberries and currants. Crush and heat long enough to soften fruit and start juices flowing freely. Drain thru a jelly bag and measure juice. For each cup of juice measure ¾ cup sugar. Combine and boil rapidly until the sirup "sheets" from the edge of a spoon. Pour into glasses and seal.

Gooseberry, Loganberry, and Currant Jelly.

Use equal parts of the fruit, some of which should be underripe. Sort, wash, and crush the three fruits together. Heat slowly to boiling and boil three minutes. Drain thru jelly bag until juice ceases to drip. Make a second extration of juice by returning the pulp to the kettle, adding enough water to cover, boiling three minutes and draining again. Combine the two extractions and measure ¾ cup sugar for each cup of juice. Boil rapidly to the jellying point [when two drops of sirup "sheet" from the edge of a spoon]. Pour at once and seal with paraffin.

Do not forget, in any kind of jelly making, that it is best to work with small amounts of sirup. A wide pan will expose more surface and allow rapid evaporation of moisture, thus shortening the cooking period.

VFW and Auxiliary Meet Tonight to Plan Pilgrimage

The Ladies' auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, department of Illinois, will meet jointly with the Cook County council of the veterans' organization this evening in room 1128 of the County building to make plans for a pilgrimage July 27 to the Veterans of Foreign Wars national home for widows and orphans of veterans at Eaton Rapids, Mich. Mrs. William Rice of 4935 Fulton street is the newly elected president of the auxiliary.

Sally Promises Lot of Laughs at Next Party

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

There's nothing I enjoy more than hearing a group of boys and girls laughing as hard as ever they can—and I expect to listen to a lot of that when I take my guests to our next party.

Fifty boys and fifty girls will have an opportunity to come with me to see Bob Hope's new picture, "Caught in the Draft," which is now playing at the Chicago theater. He's always funny, but wait until you see him in the army! He's scared to death of a gun, and certainly doesn't know how to peel a potato, but he learns a lot in a very short time after he becomes a rookie. Lynn Overman and Eddie Bracken are also in the film, and Dorothy Lamour plays the daughter of the colonel of the regiment.

The party is to be one week from Thursday, July 10, and if you want to come along, better get busy on your letter. All you have to do is write and tell me why you think you'd have a good time if I invited you to this party. You see, I want as my guests the youngsters to whom this movie will be a real treat.

When you write, don't forget to tell me your full name, your address and your age, and you must mail your letter so that it will reach me not later than next Thursday morning. Anything that you think will help to convince me that you really must be invited will be all right in your letter, but be sure to write it all by yourself.

Those little rules are as easy as pie to remember—so if you'd like an invitation to next week's party, keep them in mind when you're sending that letter to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Civitan Delegates Open International Convention

The Civitan International opened its 21st annual convention yesterday in the Morrison hotel. More than 1,000 persons are expected to attend the sessions, which will continue thru Wednesday. A reception was held during the day and a dinner at night for the international officers. Don C. Rogers of the Chicago board of education is international president.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

One test of a bridge player is the use he makes of entries. Sometimes it is necessary to watch a player thru many deals before one can form a sound appraisal of his ability. On the other hand, a single deal may reveal the true measure of his skill. I watched a certain player handle the South cards in the deal shown below, and I knew I had been watching an expert.

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ 9 7 5
♥ 8 7 4 3
♦ 6 5 2
♣ K 4 2

WEST
♠ Q 10 4
♦ Q 10 9 7 4 3

EAST
♠ None
♥ K Q J 10 9 5

SOUTH
♠ A K J 8 6 3 2
♥ A
♦ A K J
♣ A 7

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 spades	Pass	2 no trump	3 hearts
3 spades	Pass	4 spades	5 clubs
5 hearts	Pass	5 spades	Pass
6 clubs	Pass	6 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

West opened the heart six. Declarer won and laid down the trump ace, getting the bad news that, despite the 10 trumps in the combined hands, he would have to lose to the queen. This, of course, put the contract in danger, since there was also a good chance that the diamond finesse, if attempted, would fail. After thinking for a moment, and considering the full import of East's aggressive vulnerable bidding, declarer attacked his problem as follows:

He cashed the spade king and the club ace, then used the club king as an entry to ruff a heart. He then cashed the diamond ace, after which he threw West on lead with the queen of trumps. Obviously, West had nothing left except diamonds and, therefore, had to lead up to declarer's tenace.

The play had not been at all difficult because of East's bidding. But I wonder how many players would have used the proper reasoning in order to avoid the diamond finesse? East had shown a minimum of 11 cards in hearts and clubs and, indeed, his bids would have been outrageously stretched with that minimum. It was much more likely, declarer realized, that East had 12 cards in the bid suits. If that were so, he could have no more than one diamond, and a finesse would be futile. Hence, declarer used the only entry in dummy for a much better purpose, namely, to ruff away West's likely exit card in hearts. If West had had three clubs as well as two hearts, declarer would have been helpless but, at least, he would have done his utmost.

Hard to Await Camp Outing, Says John, 12

Children, once they know they are scheduled for an outing at Camp Algonquin, can hardly wait for the day when they will be on their way. One 12 year old boy asked to get his vacation a little sooner. The following letter was received last week in the United Charities office:

"This is John writing. My mother wants to know when Dorothy should be at the United Charities also what time. Also can't you appeal for me to go earlier than July 28. Gee I don't think I can survive that long. I practically cry myself to sleep every night. And yesterday when I saw the picture and write-up of Miss Fitzpatrick that made me feel worse so please try to send me to Camp Algonquin July 8, or something in that order. Yours sincerely, JOHN.

John's sister, Dorothy, whom he mentions, is so undernourished that the clinic doctor has asked that she be sent to Harlowarden, the section of camp where undernourished children are given all-summer care and a special diet. She will go tomorrow.

Gifts from readers of THE TRIBUNE are making it possible for youngsters such as John to have a two week vacation at the camp, which is on the Fox river, northwest of Chicago. A $25 donation Saturday from Mrs. A. E. Spink brought the fund to $279.46.

Week-end gifts to the fund to supply ice to needy families who have no facilities for keeping food, milk, and medicine during hot summer months: $2 from Lillian B. Kohn and Miss A. Sawyer, $1 from Skippy and $1.10 from Case No. 180156. The total is $141.30.

Donations to either fund will be gratefully acknowledged in these columns. Gifts should be sent to the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., Tribune Tower.

50 Chicago Children Leave for Two Weeks on Farms

Fifty children from the city's industrial districts, many of whom have never seen a cow or a pig, boarded a train at 9:30 a. m. yesterday for Manchester, Ia., where they will be the guests of farmers in that vicinity for two weeks. The vacations were arranged for the children by Joel D. Hunter, general superintendent of the United Charities, who stated that this was the first contingent of more than 300 children who will go to farm homes during the summer. The railroads give free transportation.

MARIBELLE JOSEPHINE RODIGER.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gregory Rodiger of Greenwich, Conn., formerly of Chicago, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Maribelle Josephine, to Stewart Fowler Forshay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Forshay of Greenwich. Miss Rodiger is a granddaughter of Mrs. Caswell Alan Sharpe and of the late William Rodiger of Lake Forest, and of the late Edward Morton Holloway and Mrs. Holloway of Chicago, and is a niece of Mrs. Nicolas Starosselsky of Lake Forest. Miss Rodiger attended the Cours Maintenon in Cannes, France, and Miss Porter's school in Farmington, Conn. Mr. Forshay attended the Loomis school and is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania.

Thousands Listen to Vesper Concerts in Woodland Parks

Several thousand persons gathered yesterday at the three choral vesper concerts given in the forest preserves. The concerts were the third in the summer series.

More than 2,000 men, women, and children heard the Bethel Lutheran church choir in Caldwell woods. Robert E. Bowlus directed and Harry J. Juul, president of the chorus, was master of ceremonies.

An audience of 1,000 attended the Dan Ryan woods concert given by the Parker Women's chorus, directed by Mrs. Grace Humphrey. An immediate audience of 400 and a scattered audience of 1,000 heard the First Reformed church choir in Thatcher woods. Mrs. Henrietta Kracilik Murphy directed.

Debutante to Join Ralph Winston Family.

The Ralph T. Winstons are looking forward to an unusually pleasant fall and winter, for they are to have a debutante in their family after the end of September. She is Mrs. Winston's niece and godchild, Miss Mary Winston Dowling of California. Miss Dowling and Mrs. Winston recently ended a six weeks' trip thru Mexico, and the debutante now is in a summer camp, Tamarack lodge, in the San Bernadino mountains. Mrs. Winston is planning the simplest sort of a tea from 4 to 6 o'clock at the Arts club on Oct. 10 to have their Chicago friends meet her niece.

Mrs. Fredrick F. McIntosh of Sewickly, Pa., a niece of Mrs. William E. Clow, and Mrs. McIntosh's debutante daughter, Jane, are arriving in Lake Forest this week for a dinner-dance Mr. and Mrs. Clow are giving on Thursday night for their debutante granddaughter, Miss Frances Clow. Mrs. McIntosh's sub-debutante daughter, Fredricka, is accompanying her mother and sister, and the trio will stay on for a visit with the Clows.

Burgess-Day Prenuptial Parties Are Started.

Miss Mary Louise Burgess and James Edward Day and the young men and women who will be their wedding attendants on Wednesday are involved in a whirl of parties. Miss Marian Hall entertained at dinner and dancing on Saturday night at the Edgewater Beach hotel. Miss Joan Burgess and Kenneth F. Burgess Jr., the bride's sister and brother, gave a buffet supper and sports party at home in Hubbard Woods yesterday.

Miss Mary Anne Mathews and Mrs. Edward W. Saunders are giving a luncheon today at the Westmoreland Country club. The bachelor dinner will be given tonight, while Miss Burgess and her attendants will be guests at the spinster dinner in the home of the Edwin C. Austins. The bride's uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Vernon C. David, will give the bridal dinner tomorrow night at the Glen View club.

There will be two luncheon parties on the day of the wedding, one for the out of town guests, at which Mrs. Aubrey H. Mellinger will be hostess; the other for the bridal party, to be given by Miss Barbara Remy.

Hermon Dunlap Smiths Mark Anniversary Today.

The Hermon Dunlap Smiths are being congratulated on their 18th wedding anniversary today. Their new daughter, born on June 21 at the Alice Home hospital, has been named Adele Dunlap. Farwell will have a month on Cape Cod with Hugh Dangler and his family, leaving next week-end.

New Feathered Hats Bad News for Chickens

BY REA SEEGER.

Fine feathers, and a lot of the barnyard variety, trim and make the newest hats. If present showings prove anything, there can't be a hen or a rooster anywhere with a complete quota of tail feathers. Big hats with high crowns are skewered thru with dashing, sky-tickling feathers. One large brimmed felt hat is completely surrounded [the brim] with a single long feather. Small hats are covered with quills. One particularly jaunty number has an upturned brim of the feathers, the white quill ends also turned up, looking like a picket fence against the shallow crown.

It's amazing how high fashion and how smart these chicken feathers make a felt hat, large, small, or medium, and the ingeniousness with which these feathers are arranged really is something to see. Skull hugging turbans are completely covered with feathers . . . a single quill used to be enough for most of the larger brimmed felt hats, but this season the hat makers use three, four, and even more, with definite distinction. And there isn't a tint or shade that isn't available to contrast blend or match the felt of the hats.

Fine feathers are used, too, . . . lovely goura, for instance, hasn't been seen for months, so it's a surprise arrival these days. Fluffy bits of ostrich feathers, the curls, have been revived, with eye-catching results not only because of the feathery flattery, but the unusual color range.

Coq feathers in huge curls, or the smaller circles, are the most sophisticated of all feathers used for millinery. Some of the smartest, as well as the most extreme creations flaunt the coq curls.

JOE DI MAGGIO SETS MODERN BATTING RECORD

Pirates Knock Out Larry in Fourth.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Cubs, first class fellows off the baseball field, but perhaps one of the most punchless assortment of gents who ever scuffed up a major league batters' box, dropped two more games yesterday, succumbing to the Pirates, 8 to 2, in the first game, and 3 to 2 in the second encounter. This time they plunked into sixth place, the Pirates passing them.

Larry French was knocked out in the fourth inning of the first game to be charged with his ninth defeat. Bill Lee suffered his 10th defeat in the second match, his fifth straight. Bill pitched well but, as usual, was the victim of the puny nature of his supporting cast.

Eighth Loss in 10 Games.

It was the second successive Sabbath that the Cubs flopped before a large crowd of gluttons for punishment. A week ago they blew two to the Boston Braves before 25,136. There weren't so many witnesses yesterday, but plenty, considering. A gathering of 17,440 turned out.

Because the Cubs are all fine young business men we do not subscribe to the belief that at least half the outfit should be shipped to Milwaukee and Tulsa forthwith, and we don't want to hear any more of that kind of talk. And please don't accept the following data as evidence that Chicago is represented in the National league by something much less than it deserves:

The Cubs have won two of their last 10 games, one by a score of 1 to 0, and the other, Saturday, 3 to 2, on three unearned runs.

The Cubs, who made one earned run in each game yesterday, have made eight earned runs in their last 78 innings.

The Cubs yesterday fell seven games below the .500 mark.

The Batsmen Don't Bat.

The Cubs, who have been in last place in fielding week after week, made only one harmless error, and not until the winning run had been scored in the ninth inning of the second game, so their latest flopperoo like most of the recent foldups, can be blamed almost exclusively on their utter helplessness at the plate. It is remarkable that the pitchers have held up as well as they have with swooning batsmen all over the place.

Most of the tragedy in the first game occurred in the fourth inning when French pitched three singles and two walks. Then Vance Page pitched two singles to get a total of five runs charged to Larry's record.

Hack Gets Two Doubles.

Johnny Lanning won his second victory of the year, his second over the Cubs, and his first as a starting pitcher. He held the Cubs to four hits, all doubles, two of them by Stan Hack, the Cubs' only grade A hitter on a day after day basis.

The Pirates used four pitchers in the second game, Joe Bowman, Al Wilkie, who did all he could to give the Cubs a victory; Joe Sullivan, the winner, and Truett Sewell, winner of the first game of the series and two previous games over the Cubs. Sewell pitched the ninth, in which he struck out Dom Dallessandro and Clyde McCullough.

FIRST GAME

The fans were deceived into expecting early action when each lead off man hit safely. Anderson opened for the Pirates with a single to left and never got off first. Hack opened for the Cubs with a double and managed to get to third before Nicholson ended the first inning with a whiff.

There were no more hits until the Pirates fell on French in the fourth. Fletcher singled to right with one down and Elliott walked. Van Robays

MOON MULLINS—A STRONG BREEZE

BY ARCH WARD.

EIGHT years ago this department was ready to present the original All-Star baseball game, played at Comiskey park, July 6, 1933. . . . More than 500,000 fans had cast ballots for the starting teams. . . . Chuck Klein of the Phillies was the National league's leading vote getter with a total of 342,283. . . . Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs was next with 338,653. . . . Al Simmons of the White Sox, who polled 346,291, topped the American leaguers. . . . For six weeks the fans of the nation were talking baseball—All-Star baseball. . . . Comiskey park's 49,500 seats had been sold to customers in 46 states. . . . The ninth annual game will be played in Detroit a week from tomorrow. . . . Briggs stadium will be crowded with fans. . . . Two representative teams will be on the field. . . . But it no longer is the fans' game. . . . The fundamental reason for the presentation of the original contest—the exploitation of baseball—vanished when the selection of the players was taken away from the public. . . . Eight of the 16 club presidents, whose approval was necessary for the first All-Star game, are dead. . . . Two others no longer are in baseball. . . . Those who have passed on are J. Louis Comiskey of the White Sox, William L. Veeck of the Cubs, Charles Stoneham of the Giants, Stephen McKeever of the Dodgers, Frank Navin of the Tigers, Jake Ruppert of the Yankees, Phil Ball of the Browns, and Tom Shibe of the Athletics. . . . John A. Heydler, who was president of the National league at the time the original contest was arranged, has retired from baseball. . . . But Will Harridge, president of the American league, whose vision and enterprise have been the dominating factors in the life of the series, carries on. . . . As long as he holds office, the All-Star game will have a prominent place in the nation's athletic program. . . .

Chapter's End.

Why am I such a saperoo
That I can't see a tree chopped down
Without a sense of personal loss
As I go my way with a frown?
Why am I such a softie
When I see an old home razed
That I actually feel a wrench as each brick
Comes down, that new trails may be blazed?

Other people don't seem to mind
These things as they hurry by,
Now why can't I be casual like that
When old things wither and die?
Is it because life seemed so sweet
In those gentle, less hurried years
That whenever another chapter ends
I fight to keep back the tears?

Vacation Wanderlust.

When the summer doldrums threaten
And ambition's on the blink,
When I hanker not for food but just
When lassitude and languor
Are the twins that wear me down,
Then it's time to pack the family bus
And head for out of town.

Every breeze that bends the tree tops
Is a call from far away
And each wave that laps the shoreline
Coaxes me to come and play;
Every winding highway beckons,
And the shining sail at sea
And the bird that soars above us
Seem to say, Come flee with me.

There are paths my feet would follow
Where the woods are green and cool
And the sunlight falls but faintly
On the silent forest pool,
There are lakes whose waters mirror
Stately pines and mossy shores,
Where the whole horizon whispers,
Welcome, to the out of doors.

Cleveland, O., June 29.—Ted Lyons, the 40 year old wonder, was guest of honor today at a baseball picnic sponsored by his White Sox associates. In his honor they exploded a wild eight run sixth inning and in the course of the party the marvel of the mound spun a five hitter for himself, the combination smothering the Indians in the final of the series before 12,903. The score was a decisive 9 to 3, a count that drove the local Tribe deeper into second place and hoisted the Chicagoans one game closer to that consolation position.

Sox on a Rampage.

Lyons, as usual, was the nearly perfect workman while putting together his seventh victory of the year and the 240th of his big league career. He was a bit wild in the early innings, but even then held his foes hitless until the fourth when Ken Keltner landed on a cripple for a homer, tying the score at one apiece.

The sixth which gave the Sox the series, 2 to 1, and ended their road trip with seven victories against eight defeats, was a freak in several ways. Everything happened after two were

KLEMMER SETS :46 WORLD MARK IN 400 METERS

Philadelphia, Pa., June 29 (AP).—Fourteen athletes from the Olympic club in San Francisco won four individual titles, scored in 14 of the 21 events, and produced the only world record as they swept team honors for the third straight year today in the 53d National AAU senior track and field championships.

The meet drew the greatest crowd in its long history. More than 25,000 sat thru the afternoon at Franklin field and watched the westerners deliver the peak performance when Grover Klemmer ran the fastest 400 meters a stop watch ever has recorded.

Same Time on All Watches.

This 20 year old sophomore at the University of California, who also has equalled the world record for 440 yards, was clocked in 46 seconds flat by all three watches. He broke the tape six inches in front of Hubert Kerns and Cliff Bourland of the Southern California AA, whose time of 46.1 was equal to the former world record set by another California quarter miler, Archie Williams, in 1936. Unofficially all five finishers were caught in under 47 seconds.

Next to Klemmer, leading candidates for the day's top honors were Fred Wolcott, the Rice institute hurdling champion, and Billy Brown of Louisiana State. Wolcott, retaining both of his championships, equalled the world record and set up a meet record of 13.7 seconds at 110 meters.

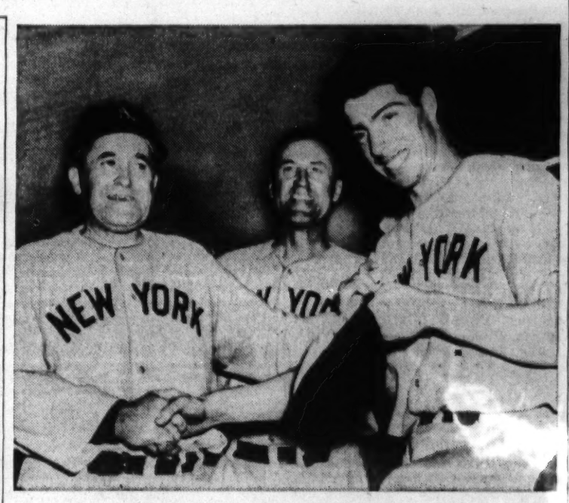

Jump Champion Beaten.

A new meet mark was put up at 6 feet 9¾ inches in the high jump, which produced an upset in the defeat of Defending Champion Les Steers of the Olympic club, by Bill Stewart of the Southern California AA. Both cleared the new record height, but Stewart was the winner on fewer misses.

The final team standing found the Olympic club on top with 125 points, while the other leaders were the New York AC, 85½; Southern California AA, 66; Louisiana State university, 34, and Asbury Park [N. J.] AC, and Penn AC, Philadelphia, 18 each.

Manager Joe McCarthy of the Yankees greets DiMaggio in the dressing room as Coach Art Fletcher looks on.

Fans Come from Miles Around to See DiMaggio Make History

Washington, D. C., June 29 [Special].—Outside the dressing room door, hundreds of fans howled for Joe DiMaggio. Inside, the record breaking Yankee outfielder grinned thru the streams of perspiration that poured from his black hair, down his face. Teammates slapped him on the back and yelled congratulations as they hurried thru their showers and dressing to catch the train back home.

What did DiMaggio say? How did he feel? "What can I say? How would you feel? Great. Tickled silly. Terrific. Anything you want," he answered.

Joe tugged off his socks, grabbed a towel and headed for the hissing showers. "Don't forget one thing," he yelled back. "I was up there a lot of times when Joe McCarthy could have given me the take sign. He didn't tho. He let me hit whenever I wanted to. Don't ever think that didn't help."

Joe Gets a Reception.

Fans came from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and points south and west to watch DiMaggio crack George Sisler's 19 year old consecutive games batting record of 41 straight by hitting safely in both games of today's double header. Spectators were lined up outside the park when Joe arrived before the game.

When he stepped onto the field, they swarmed from the stands, pulling and tugging at him, pleading for autographs. All thru batting practice, kids and oldsters allke were hoping from their seats and flocking around the batting cage. After the game they were still waiting for him. He had to struggle thru the crowd.

It was no soft touch for the slugger. Dutch Leonard has always been a tough nut for him, and the Yanks. And Dutch had his stuff. Umpire Johnny Quinn, who called balls and strikes, said, "Dutch had as much stuff as I've ever seen him have. He was pitching out of a background of white shirts, too. That pitch he made to Dimag in the sixth was a perfect one. But Dimag hit."

Hit a Low, Fast One.

"The pitch was a fast ball, low and over the outside corner," Joe said. "It looked good to me, so I swung at it." Leonard explained: "I was behind him most of the time, so I couldn't throw knucklers. If that fast ball had gotten by him I could have tossed him one. That's what I was trying to set him up for."

The pitch Joe hit in the seventh inning of the second game off Walt Masterson to break the record was an ordinary fast ball, waist high, and a little to the outside of the plate. "I was trying for the outside corner and maybe I made it too good," Masterson said. "I wouldn't have minded except that if I had gotten him out, the score would still have been tied."

In six of the 42 games DiMaggio failed to make a hit until the last time at bat.

Joe's Bat Stolen!

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29 [Special].—Joe DiMaggio lost a cherished souvenir in Griffith stadium today, and an unidentified fan gained one. The bat with which DiMaggio created his 42 game hitting record and the one with which he tied the mark in the first game of the double header was stolen between games. In the second game DiMaggio used another of his bats, which he had loaned to Tommy Henrich.

Washington, D. C., June 29 (AP).—Joe DiMaggio's pursuit of a modern consecutive game hitting record ended successfully this afternoon in Griffith stadium. The Yankee center fielder hit safely in each game of his team's double header triumph over the Senators, passing the 19 year old record of 41 straight games set by George Sisler, St. Louis Browns first baseman.

DiMaggio tied Sisler's mark when he doubled in the sixth inning of the opening contest. The crowd of 31,000 was beginning to wonder if Joe would fail when he came to bat in the seventh inning of the second battle, still looking for his first hit. He got it off Walter Masterson—a solid single. His first game double came when Emil [Dutch] Leonard was pitching.

Yankess Take Two.

The Yankees won the first game, 9 to 4, and the second one, 7 to 5, thus increasing their American league lead over Cleveland to one and a half games.

The Yankees' home run record streak, which has been marching right along with DiMaggio's individual efforts, continued in high, too. Tommy Henrich kept it alive with a homer in the first game. Joe Gordon and Charley Keller made it 25 straight games in which the Yankees have hit at least one homer when they connected in the second contest.

Since DiMaggio started his streak on May 15, he has been at bat 167 times and has made 63 hits for 117 total bases. His batting average for the big streak was .377.

Hits 12 Homers During Streak.

Included in the hits were 12 home runs, 12 doubles and three triples. He knocked across 39 runs to play a big part in the Yankees' climb into the leadership of the American league.

Twice during his streak the Yankee star bumped into Bobby Feller of Cleveland. The first time Joe rapped Bobby for two hits; the second time he got one.

Joe vowed he would try to stretch his string "so far that it'll last longer than Sisler's record, which was good for 19 years." He will attempt to hit safely in his 43d straight contest when the team takes on Boston Tuesday. The all-time record is held by Willie Keeler, who in 1897, had a run of 44 consecutive games.

The Yanks touched Leonard and Alejandro Carrasquel for 12 hits in the opener. Red Ruffing, who retired during a four run Washington uprising in the sixth, was credited with the victory.

Washington outhit the New Yorkers, 12 to 11, in the second game,

ARLINGTON PARK OPENS BIG WEEK OF RACING TODAY

Stars and Stripes Friday; Lassie Saturday.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Arlington Park goes into one of the biggest weeks of its meeting today, pointing for the $10,000 Stars and Stripes handicap on Friday and the $10,000 Lassie stakes on Saturday. The Fourth of July program is expected to draw one of the season's largest crowds. In all probability it will be surpassed only by the Classic day attendance on July 26.

The improvement in the condition of Gallahadion, Up the Creek, Technician, and Sun Lover promises to make the Stars and Stripes stirring enough to take its place with some of the brilliant runnings of this event in the past. These horses will oppose Shot Put, Viscounty, and Equifox, all three of whom already have won stake events during the current Chicago season.

Withdrawal Not Unexpected.

The withdrawal of Whirlaway was disappointing to many followers of the horses, but it was by no means unexpected. The Calumet star has been subjected to a strenuous campaign in winning the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness, the Belmont, and the Dwyer, and most racing fans agreed with Trainer Ben Jones that it would be well to give him a breathing spell before preparing him for his next major objective—the Classic. Chicago will get other opportunities to see the champ in action, for he is expected to run in one or two overnight allowance events in tuning up for the Classic.

Trainer Roy Waldron has a way of bringing Gallahadion up to his best form during the Arlington meeting. The 1940 Kentucky Derby winner ran splendidly in winning the Classic Trial last year, after which he finished second to Sirocco in the Classic, Bimelech being third. During the first week of the present meeting, he showed that he is getting back into winning shape by scoring impressively in an allowance event.

Sun Lover May Do It.

Sun Lover, who is returning to active campaigning after an extensive layoff, has made two starts at Arlington by way of preparation for his Stars and Stripes engagement. He has indicated that he needed both of those races to point him up for a winning effort. In his last start, a mile run on Friday, he moved up on the stretch turn with so strong and easy a stride that he seemed ready to go on and win as he pleased. When he engaged Technician in a head and head stretch duel, however, he weakened and dropped back to third. A little more work, however, may harden him up enough to go all the way in the mile and an eighth Stars and Stripes.

Arlington Park fans saw him put on an historic stretch run in the Classic of 1939, in which he and Challedon raced side by side thru the straightaway after both had passed the erstwhile champion, Johnstown.

The Stars and Stripes has been one of Arlington Park's most popular features since 1929. Among the great horses which won it were Blue Larkspur, Equipoise, and Discovery. Among the many who tried and failed were Sun Beau, Seabiscuit, Misstep, Mike Hall, Mate, and Ladysman.

Lassie Stakes Next Saturday.

The Lassie stakes on Saturday will give the juvenile fillies an opportunity to demonstrate their speed. Many of the former winners of this event went on to figure prominently in the struggle for national honors in their division.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt plans to send his good filly, Petrify, out from the east. Greentree stable's Spanish Moss will compete. Calumet farm will be represented by Ky Flash or Mar-Kell.

MISS INGRAM AND ARMOUR WIN IN EXHIBITION GOLF

Virginia Ingram and Tommy Armour paired to beat Patty Berg and Jock Hutchison in an exhibition Scotch foursome yesterday before 600 spectators at the Sunset Ridge Country club. The exhibition was played for the benefit of the Hadley Correspondence School for the Blind, Winnetka, Ill.

Those who witnessed the event were treated to an exciting finish when, with the match all even at the 18th hole, Miss Ingram sank a 10 foot putt to win by one point. Miss Berg took a five on the hole. Scores:

Miss Berg, 77; Hutchison, 74............151
Miss Ingram, 80; Armour, 74............154

ROAMERS LOSE, 10 TO 1.

The Chicago Roamers were beaten in a baseball game with the St. Francis Mexicans yesterday, 10 to 1. The losers were held to one hit by Romo, opposing pitcher.

LLOYD MANGRUM WINS MIDWEST OPEN TOURNEY

Kankakee, Ill., June 29 [Special].—Lloyd Mangrum, golf professional from Chicago, won the fourth annual Midwest Open tournament with a 72 hole score of 270 this afternoon on the Hieland Country club course.

Mangrum shot a 36 hole score of 37—35—33—32—137 and 133 yesterday for his 270 total, 22 under par, and 16 under the tournament record. The former record was set in 1939 by Tom Sheehan Jr. of Detroit.

Dick Metz of Oak Park, Ill., shot the low competitive card of the day with an 18 hole score of 63, 10 under par, to finish two strokes behind the winner. Metz toured the course yesterday in 141 and this afternoon shot 131 for a 272 total.

E. J. Harrison, Little Rock, Ark., finished in third place with 276; Ky Lafoon, Miami, Okla., fourth, 277; Jim Foulis, Hinsdale, Ill., fifth, 280; and John Revolta, Evanston, Ill., sixth, 282.

Myron Fohr Wins 30 Lap Feature at Riverview

Myron Fohr won the 30 lap feature midget automobile race last night at Riverview speedway. The time was 7:52.55. Ray Richards finished second; Ted Duncan, third; Jim Caris, fourth, and John Kiewig, fifth. The 15 lap handicap was won by Bob Muhlke in 4:81.

Honor Yacht Race Veteran at Regatta

Seventy-two sailing yachts honored William Moore, veteran race committee chairman of the Jackson Park Yacht club, in a regatta held yesterday off Jackson park harbor. This is Moore's 25th season as race starter for the club. Betty Bro, Milton Friend's new yawl, won the cruising division time prize, and the Driscoll-Swift-Roe R sloop, Calypso, captured the Universal [racing] division time prize. The large yachts sailed a 14 mile course around the Four-Mile and Carter Harrison cribs, in a light north wind.

Twin Star, Lockwood Pirie's Star boat, won the Sheridan Shore Yacht club's two races off Wilmette yesterday. Skipper Pirie defeated 11 other Stars in the first event, opening race in the Wilmette fleet's elimination series to pick a contender for the Great Lakes championship regatta in August. The winning time was 2 hours, 23 minutes, and 2 seconds.

Mrs. R. E. Parks sailed her husband's Arrow class sloop Nimbus to victory in the Sheridan Shore Yacht club's lady skippers' race for Arrows yesterday. Mrs. Parks defeated 10 other yachtswomen by covering the 4½ mile course in 1:34.59.

PLASMAN, SIEGAL, POOL SIGN 1941 BEAR CONTRACTS

George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, yesterday announced that three of the Bears' ends have signed contracts for the 1941 season and will report for training at Delafield, Wis., in August. They are Dick Plasman, who will play his fifth season with the team, and Hampton Pool and John Siegal, star rookies of last year's National league champions.

Linneas Defeat Hakoahs, 4-3, to Remain in Race

BY OFFSIDE.

The Linneas retained their mathematical chance for the first division title in the International Soccer league by scoring a 4 to 3 victory over the Hakoahs yesterday in Washington Park. By winning both of their remaining games the Linneas can tie the Oak Park Acorns for the lead. The Acorns, who have completed their schedule, lead by four points.

Erick Johnson opened the scoring for the Linneas after 12 minutes with a drive into the net from 10 yards out. Five minutes later Maxie Pearlman tied the scare with a well placed shot. Johnson countered with another goal a few minutes later to give the Linneas a lead they retained until just before the end of the period, when Pearlman again deadlocked the score with a drive into the net.

In the second period the Linneas moved into a 3 to 2 lead after five minutes of play when Turo Halquist shot past the Hakoah goalkeeper. Two minutes later the score was tied again when Truine Feinstein tallied from a different angle. This, however, was the dying effort of the Hakoahs, for a minute later Erick Olson drove into the net on a shot from the corner.

In another first division match the South Side Swedes defeated the Center Sport club, 4 to 1. The Swedes can capture second place by beating the American Eagles in their only remaining contest. The Eagles will clash with the Vikings next Sunday in the State Peel cup finals in the Winnemac Park stadium, following up their 1 to 0 victory yesterday over the Fichte eleven.

Other results yesterday:

FIRST RESERVE LEAGUE.
Eagles, 3; Fichte, 1.
Centers, 3; South Side Swedes, 2.
Hakoah, 1; Linnea, 0.

JUNIOR MATCH.
Center, 1; Harvey, 0.

Dykes Orders Eye Test for Mike Kreevich

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., June 29.—Mike Kreevich, the White Sox center fielder who has been in a mysterious batting slump for a season and a half, will be subjected to an examination by eye specialists tomorrow when the team returns home. Manager James Dykes decided on this course today after basing his judgment not only on the little iron man's light hitting but on the fact that the player, ordinarily a great defensive item, had recently lost several fly balls. If Kreevich's vision is found to be faulty he probably will take out membership in the bespectacled club.

John Dungan Rigney will handle the Sox pitching tomorrow in the opener of a three game series with the Tigers in Comiskey park. Johnny Gorsica will be the enemy operator.

Julius Solters, who was back in the lineup today for the first time since May 30 when he dislocated his left shoulder, was welcomed by a delegation of Pittsburgh citizens. They gave him a baby bond. A similar gift was handed George Susce of the Indians, who also is a Pittsburgher.

The clubhouse fire which destroyed $600 of White Sox equipment Saturday morning will have to be charged off to experience. No insurance against such mishaps was carried by the Sox, the Cleveland ball club or the city owned stadium where the bonfire occurred.

Foreman Goes to Third Round in North Shore

John Foreman of the Lake Shore Country club advanced to the third round in the annual North Shore Open tennis tournament on the clay courts of the Country Club of Evanston yesterday. Foreman, who is seeded sixth, eliminated John Evert, 6-4, 6-4. Also advancing to the third round was Ben Migdow of Chicago, who defeated James Lathrop of the Saddle and Cycle club, 6-0, 6-1.

The meet will continue today with the opening of play in three more divisions, women's singles and junior girls' and boys' singles. Mary Arnold of Los Angeles, Cal., and Helen Shockley of Evanston are seeded one and two, respectively, in the women's singles. Results:

ILLINOIS TEAM BEATS DETROIT IN POLO, 10 TO 3

Detroit, Mich., June 29 [Special].—A quartet of hard riding, smooth working polo players from Oakbrook, Ill., completely outplayed the Grosse Pointe four here today in a match sponsored by the British War Relief society, 10 to 3.

It took the Illinois team two chukkers to get started but from there on in there was little doubt as to the outcome. In the third frame the Oakbrook passing attack began to click and they racked up three goals in quick succession, paced by Dapper Dan Peacock.

out. Thirteen batted, 10 of them reaching base in a row. Six of the 10 hit safely, Dario Lodigiani getting the first and the sixth singles. Four of the 13 drew passes, two of the gifts coming with the bases filled. At one point the Sox watched 14 successive wide pitches float past the plate.

Bagby First Victim.

The first victim of the terrifying inning was Jim Bagby Jr., who started and for five innings had held the Sox to five hits as well as one run. After he had retired two in the sixth there came a shower of five hits with one pass in between. With four runs already home and two on the bases, Bagby gave way to Mel Harder. He walked two without pitching a strike. Harry Eisenstat was next. He continued the walking procedure with one pass and had another under way, but inadvertentiy threw a strike and Lodigiani rapped it safely to drive in the last two runs.

The Sox started off in the second as if intending a quick getaway for Bagby, but subsided so quickly that only one run resulted. Wright led off with a single to center, Solters singled to left and Chapman did the same, Wright counting. But Tresh bounced into a double play and Lyons rolled to Trosky.

Ted Escapes Danger.

All that Lyons had on his hands in the fifth was a full house with none out, but he got away with a minimum of damage. Campbell singled and Mack bunted into the air. Lyons dove trying to make the catch, landed on his right shoulder and the pop up became a hit. After making sure he wasn't injured Lyons resumed work and Hemsley sacrificed. Lodigiani threw the bunt to second but too late, thus creating the full house. Kolloway smothered Bagby's grounder for a double play, Campbell scoring and Bourdeau hoisted to Wright to end the inning.

The sixth didn't turn crazy until after Kolloway and Kuhel had grounded out, but they had their fun later in the inning. Lodigiani started the blasting by singling to center. Appling singled thru short and Wright singled to center to score Lodigiani with the tying run. Solters singled to left and Appling waltzed home. Chapman accepted a base loading pass. Tresh picked off the first pitch for a single to left, Wright and Solters scoring. This was where Bagby surrendered with pleasure.

Walks, Walks, Walks!

Harder then made his brief appearance. Lyons walked on four pitches, reloading the bases. Kolloway also walked on four pitches, Chapman scoring. Away went Harder. Rescuer Eisenstat threw four, all wide, so Kuhel walked and Tresh scored.

Eisenstat's first two pitches to Lodigiani also were wide, making a total of 14 without a strike, but one then came over the plate and Lodigiani singled, Lyons and Kolloway registering. The spasm ended on Appling's fly to Heath. The only delay thereafter was a pass followed by Hemsley's single on which the Indians scored their last run in the seventh.

GIANTS WALK TO VICTORY.

New York, June 29 (AP).—Presented with a dozen bases on balls, the Giants virtually walked to a 10 to 7 victory over the Phillies in the first game of a scheduled double header at the Polo Grounds today. A sudden downpour washed out the second game just as the players took the field.

A five run rally in the first inning, climaxed by Joe Moore's home run with two aboard, enabled the Giants to coast safely in.

Red Sox Split Double Header with Athletics

Philadelphia, Pa., June 29 (AP).—The Athletics split a double header with the Boston Red Sox today, winning the second game, 3 to 2, after losing the opener, 13 to 1. The second largest crowd of the season, 28,483, saw the bargain bill.

Jack Knott won his sixth game in the second game, altho lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth. Tom Ferrick, who replaced him in the ninth, gave up two hits by Johnny Peacock and Pinch Hitter Jimmy Foxx after two were out, but then fanned Dominic DiMaggio on three pitches to end the game.

The Sox had an easy time in the opener behind Charley Wagner's five hit pitching. Joe Cronin hit a homer with the bases loaded in the third and Ted Williams clouted his 15th homer in the eighth. Frankie Pytlak also hit for the circuit in the fourth. Scores:

Retrospect.

This evening I unwound a faded string
That round a sheaf of letters had been tied,
And each one seemed a breathing, living thing,
The very moment that I glanced inside;
I wandered back with you across the years,
And met the olden friends we used to know,
And lived thru all the laughter and the tears
That we were heir to in the long ago.

And then I read one note that said "Good-by!"
'Twas posted just before you went to France;
Ending our very beautiful romance;
Somewhere on Flanders field where poppies bloom
You sleep tonight in a forgotten tomb.

Winnetka Cricket Team Gains 8th Victory in Row

The Winnetka cricket team scored its eighth straight triumph of the season yesterday by defeating Lake Forest, 95 to 51, in an Illinois league game in Lake Forest. Oak Park beat Washington Park, 88 to 19, and Hyde Park won from Chicago, 75 to 39, in other games.

Pirates Beat Cubs, 8-3, 3-2; Take Fifth supplied the second out with a tap to French, after which Di Maggio was given an intentional pass, loading the bases. Gustine lined a single to left, scoring Fletcher and Elliott. Lopez singled similarly, scoring DiMaggio and bringing about French's replacement by Page. Lanning's single to right and Anderson's single to left brought in two more Pirates. Handley, who supplied the first out of the inning, also was responsible for the third one when he forced Lanning at third.

The Cubs broke thru with their unearned run strategy in the fourth. Stringer was safe on Gustine's fumble and, after Cavarretta had flied to Elliott, got to second on Nicholson's infield out. Dallessandro caromed his double off Handley's glove, Stringer scoring. Dahlgren walked, but Fletcher took George's popup.

Sturgeon Spiked at Second.

Erickson took over at the start of the fifth. He walked Fletcher then, with the count three and two on Elliott, Fletcher broke for second and spiked Sturgeon on a needless slide, for Elliott also walked. Sturgeon continued playing after having his wounds dressed. Van Robays and DiMaggio fanned and Gustine fouled to George.

The Pirates got a run in the seventh. Fletcher walked and was forced on Elliott's attempted sacrifice. Elliott went to second on Van Robay's infield out, took third on a wild pitch, and scored on DiMaggio's single to left.

With two out in the seventh Erickson doubled to left for his first major league hit and scored the Cubs' first earned run in two games on Hack's double to right. The inning ended on Stringer's bouncer to Gustine.

Lopez walked at the start of the eighth, moved up on Lanning's sacrifice and scored on Anderson's third single. Anderson was caught stealing, then Handley walked and stole second. He scored on Fletcher's single to right.

SECOND GAME

The Cubs got a run—an earned one, too—in the very first inning of the second game. With one down Stringer singled off Handley's glove and went to third on Cavaretta's single to right. After Nicholson walked, Dallessandro flied to Elliott, Stringer scoring. Dahlgren then forced Nicholson.

The Pirates tied the score on a fluky maneuver in the second. Van Robays walked after a three and two count and was forced by DiMaggio. On the hit and run play, Gustine threw his bat at the ball on a pitchout and the ball hit the bat. It bounced into left field, then into the gutter in front of the boxes, DiMaggio getting home with the tying run and Gustine winding up at second, credited with a double.

The Pirates made one run in the third and were robbed of another on a great play by Stringer. Bowman opened with a single and stopped at third on Anderson's fourth hit of the afternoon, a double. Bowman scored while Stringer threw out Handley. Fletcher apparently had a single rolling to right when Stringer grabbed the ball out of the grass and threw out Fletcher at first. Then Hack tossed out Elliott.

The Cubs tied the score with an unearned run in the eighth and had runners on first and second with nobody out. Then the Pirates quit making mistakes and production halted. Sturgeon opened with a single off Handley's glove and stole second. Lee bunted to Wilkie, who had replaced Bowman at the start of the seventh. Wilkie threw to third after Sturgeon had arrived there. Sullivan replaced Wilkie and made Hack do exactly what he wanted him to do, ground to Gustine, playing in. Gustine cut loose with a hurried throw to the plate, but Baker dropped the ball, Sturgeon scoring. Then Lee stood on second and Hack on first while Stringer flied to DiMaggio. Cavarretta fouled to Handley and Nicholson bounced to Gustine.

The Pirates scored the winning run in the ninth thuswise: Fletcher doubled to the right field corner. Garms batted for Elliott and popped to Sturgeon, but Van Robays singled to right, scoring Fletcher. Hack's error and an intentional pass to Pinchbatter Vaughan loaded the bases, but Collins, batting for Sullivan, bounced out to Sturgeon.

South Siders Take Police Baseball Title

Titular honors among Chicago's baseball-minded policemen were bestowed upon the south side team commanded by Capt. Patrick Crotty when they humbled the former champs, representing the north side, in 13 innings at Comiskey park yesterday by a score of 6 to 4.

Tony Sims, a chunky right hander stationed in the 19th district, who hurled the south side bluecoats to a 15 to 12 triumph Saturday in the opener of the hectic annual series under the auspices of the Policemen's Benevolent association, came back brilliantly to make it two straight. His home run blast into left field shattered a 4 to 4 deadlock.

ARON, SECREET TO DRAW FULL HOUSE TONIGHT

A crowd of more than 1,900 will be on hand tonight when Sammy Secreet, rangy welterweight championship aspirant from Canonsburg, Pa., attempts to score his second straight victory over Milt Aron in a 10 round return bout in Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street. This is the capacity of the indoor arena, where the fight will be held if the weather is unfavorable.

Inasmuch as 1,600 tickets already have been sold it is apparent hundreds will be turned away unless the show can be offered in the adjacent outdoor setup, which has been arranged to seat in excess of 3,500. Promoter Irving Schoenwald said the card will be presented, rain or shine.

Three bouts will top a wrestling show tonight in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue. Karol Krauser is paired with Michael Leone, Joe Millich with Charles [Gorilla] Grubmyer, and Ignacio Martinez with Fritz Von Schacht. . . . Johnny Trotter has been obtained to oppose Johnny Colan of New York in a 10 round headliner in Marigold Gardens next Monday.

100,000 WITNESS DEDICATION OF CHICAGO AIRPORT

Chicago's expanded airport, one of the biggest and best in the world, was formally dedicated yesterday in a four hour aerial ceremony witnessed by more than 100,000 spectators.

The big field was officially thrown open at 1:58 p. m. when a huge transport plane, carrying Mayor Kelly and a group of prominent government and local officials, landed on the new mile long east-west runway, and severed a red, white, and blue ribbon.

In a brief radio address from the plane before landing, Mayor Kelly described the airport as "one of Chicago's major peacetime productions." Howard O. Hunter, national commissioner of the Work Projects administration, said the airport "makes Chicago the center of the greatest air traffic in the history of the nation."

135 Land and Depart.

Thruout the extended ceremonies, ships, large and small, military and naval, were constantly in the air over and near the field. But despite this, 135 commercial ships arrived and deported without incident.

The day's events began at 1 p. m. after a talk by Mayor Kelly over W-G-N, when the mayor and 87 dignitaries went aloft in six big air liners.

Among the guests in the ships were Commissioner Hunter, Maj. Gen. Charles H. Bonesteel, commander of the 6th corps area; Capt. E. A. Lofquist, U. S. N.; Brig. Gen. Donald H. Connelly, federal civil aeronautics chief; Robert H. Hinckley, assistant secretary of commerce, and Merrill C. Meigs, aeronautics chairman for the federal Office of Production Management.

Naval Planes Demonstrate.

Later naval, army, and commercial planes made touch landings in threes, each ship, however, upon a separate runway. The varied and exciting program included stunt flying, a parachute leap, and glider flights.

BORAH'S RECORD OF AMERICANISM HAILED BY GREEN

Fairfield, Ill., June 29 (AP).—Gov. Dwight Green at a memorial service today for Senator William E. Borah compared that native son of Fairfield with Abraham Lincoln and Benjamin Franklin in their common devotion to Americanism.

"In the late Senator William E. Borah, whose 77th birthday anniversary we have gathered to commemorate, the entire nation found its greatest champion of true Americanism," the governor said.

"Senator Borah represented Idaho, the state of his adoption, but Fairfield and Wayne county never relinquished their claim on him as favorite son. All Illinois can well exult in the success that made Senator Borah an outstanding and unforgetable figure in American history."

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Shop Talk

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Amy B. Bliss.

Word was received here yesterday of the death Friday in Jerusalem, Palestine, of Mrs. Amy Blatchford Bliss, widow of Dr. Howard S. Bliss, former president and son of the founder of the Syrian American college in Beirut, Syria. Mrs. Bliss was 78 years old. A native Chicagoan, she had lived in Beirut for 40 years, but was forced to leave a month ago because of war conditions. A sister-in-law, Mrs. Paul Blatchford, lives at 930 Jackson avenue, River Forest. Mrs. Bliss leaves three daughters, Mrs. Bayard Dodge, wife of the present head of the college in Beirut, Mrs. Margaret Leavitt, and Mrs. Alice Smith; two sons, Daniel and Huntington, and two brothers, Edward W. Blatchford and Charles H. Blatchford.

Dr. Ernst Pfennig.

The funeral of Dr. Ernst Pfennig, who practiced dentistry on the north side for 44 years prior to his retirement in 1932, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 5501 North Ashland avenue. Dr. Pfennig, who was 75 years old, died Saturday in Alexian Brothers hospital. He lived at 1311 North La Salle street. He leaves his widow, Susan, and a daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Peterson.

Henry E. Johnson.

Henry E. Johnson, a candy manufacturer, died yesterday in Alexian Brothers' hospital. He was 75 years old and lived at 6805 North Ashland avenue. He leaves his widow, Harriett, and a son, Walter H. Services will be at 3 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 5501 North Ashland avenue. Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery.

Arthur H. Watson.

Arthur H. Watson, a patent attorney for the Borg-Warner corporation, died of a heart attack yesterday while working in the garden of his home at 648 Carol court, Highland Park. He was 45 years old. Mr. Watson leaves his widow and two sons, James and Arthur. Services will be at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 27 North Sheridan road, Highland Park.

Mrs. Lucy M. Glos.

Mrs. Lucy M. Glos, widow of Henry L. Glos, Elmhurst's first mayor, died yesterday in Elmhurst hospital after a brief illness. She was 88 years old. Her husband, a banker and for 20 years Elmhurst mayor, died in 1905. As a result of the death of Mrs. Glos, her 20 room stone house at 104 South Kenilworth avenue, adjoining the Elmhurst business district, will go to the municipality of Elmhurst. She arranged several years ago for Elmhurst to acquire it on her death. It is believed Elmhurst city offices will be transferred there. Services for Mrs. Glos will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow in the residence. Burial will be in the Glos mausoleum across the street from the home.

The Rev. James T. Wigren.

Bishop, Hill., Ill., June 29.—The Rev. James T. Wigren, 87, former Chicago and Evanston minister who retired 17 years ago, died here yesterday. A native of Attica, Ind., he engaged in the Methodist ministry for 48 years. For 25 years he was treasurer of the pension fund of the Swedish Methodist organization. For eight years he was manager of the Swedish Methodist Book concern in Chicago. He was district superintendent of the Galesburg district for 12 years. He is survived by his widow and two sons. A funeral service will be held at Bishop Hill church tomorrow and another at the Graceland chapel in Chicago at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Dr. James A. Melrose.

Decatur, Ill., June 29 (AP).—Dr. James A. Melrose, head of the department of philosophy and psychology at James Millikin university since 1926, drowned today in a small garden pool at his home. A coroner's jury termed the death a suicide, caused by despondency over ill health. Dr. Melrose, a Presbyterian minister for 15 years, came to James Millikin from the University of Wisconsin, where he was an instructor from 1924 to 1926. His widow and a daughter, Mrs. John Griswold of Norman, Okla., survive.

W. Edwin Stanley Jr.

Services for W. Edwin Stanley Jr. will be held at 4:30 p. m. today in his home, 999 Sheridan road, Lake Forest. Burial will be in Lake Forest cemetery. Mr. Stanley died Saturday night in Presbyterian hospital. He was 31 years old and a graduate of Brown university. Surviving are his widow, Edith; two sons, W. Edwin III. and Peter; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Edwin Stanley Sr., 1530 North State parkway, and two sisters, Mrs. Helen Elting and Mrs. Barbara Coleman of Lake Forest.

George Skinnen.

Services for George Skinnen, an early settler of River Forest, will be held at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow in St. Lucy's church, Lake street and Mayfield avenue. Mr. Skinnen, who was 82 years old, died Saturday. He moved to River Forest in 1879 and operated a planing mill there until 1893, when he and his family moved to Chicago. He lived at 5815 Midway park. He leaves his widow, Mary Ann, and three daughters.

Boy, 13, Drowns While Swimming in Forest Lake

Emil De Ridder Jr., 13 years old, 4042 Kimball avenue, drowned yesterday while swimming in Forest lake, one mile south of Lake Zurich in Lake county. He was with his father, an electrician, and other members of the family on an outing.

FOUR NATIONAL GROUPS HOLD OUTINGS IN CITY

25,000 Watch Sokol Mass Gymnastics.

Chicagoans of Czecho-Slovak, Polish, Greek, and German descent held three large gatherings yesterday featured by exhibitions of mass gymnastics, entertainment in old country style, and war relief benefits.

The largest group—25,000—gathered at Soldiers' field for the conclusion of the quadrennial slet, or public performance of mass calisthenics and apparatus exhibitions, presented by the federation of Czecho-Slovak Sokols of America. More than 2,000 persons participated in the exhibitions.

Polish Ambassador Speaks.

John Cichanowski, Polish ambassador to the United States, told the crowd of 25,000 that "out of this humiliating total war, must emerge a peace of understanding and unity among nations."

Col. Vladimir Hurban, minister plenipotentiary of the Czecho-Slovak republic, predicted for the Czecho-Slovaks "a complete victory over the modern bestiality menacing the whole world."

In Pilsen park nearly 10,000 persons attended a picnic and festival for the benefit of Greek war relief, sponsored by the United Greek societies of Chicago.

10,000 at German Picnic.

The annual German day picnic, which attracted more than 10,000 was held in Riverview park grove. It was sponsored by the German Day association, with about 350 German-American organizations participating.

For the first time in the history of the outing, the German consul did not attend. His presence would have required that the swastika flag be flown, and the presence of a lone Nazi banner created a furor last year.

Government agents mingled with the crowd and took photographs of groups and individuals. Two G-cameramen stood at the entrance and snapped arrivals.

WOMAN KILLED AND 5 INJURED AS CARS COLLIDE

Mrs. Signe Hansen, 48 years old, 2600 Montclair avenue, was killed yesterday and five persons were injured in an automobile collision at Higgins and La Grange roads, a mile south of Desplaines. Her husband, Nils, 53, a painter, was driving the car in which she was riding. The other car was driven by Celestine Daniels, 27, of Moline. The injured were treated in North Western hospital, Desplaines, and released.

Thomas Petcoff, 2, the son of Stoyon Petcoff, R. F. D. No. 1, Waukegan, was injured fatally when his father's automobile overturned on Illinois highway 173, a mile west of Capron, Boone county. Petcoff, his wife, Arline, 42, and two other sons, Steve, 4, and Daniel, 6 months, were injured.

John Smith, 35 years old, of Braceville, Grundy county, was killed last night when he was run down by an automobile near Braceville. The driver, De Witt Moore, 23, of Winthrop Harbor, Lake county, was taken by state police to the Will county jail in Joliet to be held for the inquest.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 448 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 226 were killed in Chicago, where 11,769 were injured in traffic in the same period.

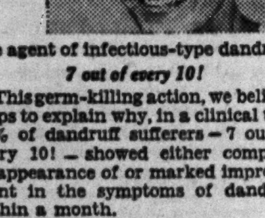

MISS LAURA CLAY IS DEAD; WOMAN SUFFRAGE LEADER

Lexington, Ky., June 29 (AP).—Miss Laura Clay, 92 years old, nationally known as a pioneer in the woman's suffrage movement, died today at her home here. She was one of the first women to take up the equal suffrage movement, her speaking trips taking her into several states. The high point of her career, however, came in 1920, when at the Democratic national convention at San Francisco, Cal., she received a vote for the presidential nomination. She was given this honor as a tribute to the many years of service she rendered in political and suffrage movements.

Prowler in Home Slashes Husband and Strikes Wife

Warren avenue police yesterday were searching for a Negro prowler who attacked Woodrow Carroll, 25 years old, and his wife, Gladys, also 25, in their apartment at 1828 Washington boulevard. The prowler struck Mrs. Carroll with a knife and slashed her husband on the left arm. Their daughter, Patricia Ann, 2, sleeping in a crib, was thrown to the floor and bruised during the scuffle.

Infectious Dandruff more than 7 out of 10 IMPROVED IN CLINICAL TEST

Such a delightful, easy, stimulating treatment! Just douse Listerine Antiseptic on the scalp, morning and night, and follow with vigorous and persistent massage.

Listerine, the same germicide which has been famous for more than 50 years as an antiseptic gargle, kills millions of germs on scalp and hair, including Pityrosporum Ovale recognized by outstanding specialists as a causative agent of infectious-type dandruff.

This germ-killing action, we believe, helps to explain why, in a clinical test, 76% of dandruff sufferers – 7 out of every 10! – showed either complete disappearance of or marked improvement in the symptoms of dandruff within a month.

LISTERINE the delightful treatment

JOHNSON LEADS TEXAS SENATE RACE BY 5,152 VOTES; O'DANIEL IS 2D

Dallas, Tex., June 29 (AP).—A correction in the Bexar county [San Antonio] tabulation tonight sliced 339 votes from the total of Lyndon Johnson in the special senatorial race, but the Texas election bureau said all indications pointed to his victory over Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel.

Senator Elect Johnson.

The 9 p. m. tabulation of the election board showed the 32 year old New Deal representative leading O'Daniel by 4,561 votes, a loss for Johnson of 591 votes since the 6:30 count.

The bureau, ending its count until tomorrow morning, gave these totals: Returns from all 254 counties, including 116 complete—Johnson, 167,471; O'Daniel, 162,910; Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, 135,075; Representative Martin Dies, 77,382.

The election bureau manager, Bob Johnson, said 96 per cent of the vote had been counted, and that Johnson appeared elected the next United States senator from Texas—chosen to fill the term cut short by the death of Morris Sheppard a few months ago.

CCC WILL CLOSE 246 CAMPS DUE TO CUT IN FUNDS

Washington, D. C., June 29 (AP).—Announcement that 264 CCC camps will be closed July 1 because of reduced appropriations was made today by James J. McEntee, director of civilian conservation.

This will cut the number of camps from 1,500 to 1,236. The CCC appropriation for the fiscal year ending tomorrow was $280,000,000 and is $246,960,000 for 1941-'42.

CCC expects to start the new fiscal year with 232,500 men, compared with an average in the closing 12 months of 270,000. Approximately 75,000 new enrollees will be taken in soon to fill vacancies created by "graduation" and by youths leaving the corps to accept jobs in private industry or to join one of the armed services. The size of the corps will not be increased greatly over the July 1 figure.

McEntee said he would be unable to release a list of the camps closed for several days. The director said a number of the abandoned camps may be used by the army for special training purposes.

STORES NOTIFIED OF CIGARET AND LIQUOR TAX RISE

State Finance Director George B. McKibben yesterday notified retailers of cigarets and alcoholic drinks of the increased taxes beginning tomorrow and advised them where and when they may obtain the tax stamps. The new tax on cigarets is 2 cents per package of 20. The tax on beer jumps from 2 to 4 cents per gallon, and the new tax on hard liquors is 50 cents more per gallon, 5 cents more per gallon on wine of less than 14 per cent alcoholic content, and 15 cents per gallon on wine of 14 per cent and up. Unless a last minute change is made in the plan of retailers, the public will be asked, tomorrow and thereafter, to pay a 1 cent tax on purchases of 15 cents to 65 cents; 2 cents on purchases of 66 cents to $1.24; 3 cents on purchases of $1.25 to $1.74.

PAROLEE SOUGHT IN SHOOTING; PAL OF VICTIM SEIZED

Central police last night were searching for Bernard Sawicki, about 17 years old, in connection with the shooting earlier in the evening of Charles Kwasinski, about 17, of 1736 Monroe street. A companion of the two boys, Charles Schwark, 16, of the Monroe street address, who was seized after the shooting, told police Kwasinski was shot by Sawicki, whom Kwasinski and Schwark were attempting to dissuade from plans to rob the City hotel, 1601 South State street. The shooting took place near the hotel.

At St. Luke's hospital physicians said Kwasinski's wound, inflicted by a bullet from a .22 caliber revolver, might prove fatal. Schwark said he and Kwasinski were parolees from the St. Charles School for Boys, and that Sawicki had escaped from there recently.

Colored Boy, 11, Saves Younger Child in Pool

Elmer Russell, 11 years old, 4955 Calumet avenue, colored, heard a scream yesterday as he was passing the Washington park swimming pool, not yet open for the season. He scaled an eight foot picket fence, dived into the pool, and carried to safety Thomas Wooten, 6, of 4858 Prairie avenue, also colored. Wooten was revived by Park Policeman Lester Fenton.

PREDICT LONG STRUGGLE OVER PRICE CONTROL

Henderson's Method Is Assailed.

Washington, D. C., June 29 (AP).—A lengthy congressional battle reminiscent of tariff making days appeared to be in the offing today as reports spread that the administration had decided to seek price control legislation.

Senator Elmer Thomas assails price chief.

Altho bipartisan support seemed likely to develop for the principle of controling prices to avoid inflation, disagreement over methods was forecast and some senators predicted that before congress is thru with the question it may write a bill far more involved even than a tariff measure.

As evidence of Republican support, Senator Robert A. Taft [R., O.] said he was willing to go along on the enactment of statutory restraints against excessive price boosts in basic commodities.

Taft Seeks Control Board.

Taft, who criticized the efforts of Leon Henderson, price administrator, to fix a ceiling on prices of commodities, said he had drafted a bill to establish a price control board consisting of the secretaries of agriculture, interior and treasury, and representatives of the federal reserve system and the OPM.

Taft contended that Henderson was without statutory authority to enforce any of the orders he has issued, adding that if statutory authority were delegated by congress it ought to be to a tribunal and not to an individual.

Wishes to Retain Parity.

[Parity is the price a farm product must bring to give the producer buying power equal to that in 1909-'14.]

Senator Ellison D. Smith [D., S. C.] called a meeting tomorrow of senators and house members from farm states to discuss "what limitation, if any, shall be placed on the markets of different farm products."

In addition to fixing prices, Henderson has issued warnings against price increases and practices which he deemed unwarranted. He charged in a statement today that some "unscrupulous" dealers in scrap metals, particularly aluminum and zinc, were attempting to evade price ceilings. This has been done, Henderson said, by such practices as adding in unwarranted freight charges and selling dirty scrap at the price of clean metal.

DEFENSE BONDS.

I understand the government is not selling the defense savings bonds to the banks. Is there any reason for barring the banks from buying these bonds?—E. N.

Answer: The treasury's policy in restricting the sale of the new defense savings bonds to nonbank purchasers is to prevent an expansion of bank deposits, which would increase the inflationary dangers of the available supply of deposit money.

When the treasury sells bonds to the banks, the effect is an increase in bank deposits. This occurs because of the following cycle: When the banks buy bonds from the treasury they withdraw idle funds to pay for the bonds. This, however, does not reduce the outstanding deposits of the banks. Then, when the treasury uses the borrowed funds to pay salaries or bills, the checks it issues are deposited with the banks by the recipients, causing a net increase in bank deposits.

However, when individuals or corporations buy treasury bonds, they withdraw money from their deposit accounts. The effect is a transfer of deposits with no change in the total volume of bank deposits.

The purpose, therefore, of selling defense savings bonds to individuals and corporations is to absorb as large a portion of increased income and savings of the public which might be used otherwise in competitive buying, inflating prices.

Further expansion of the already record volume of bank deposits is considered undesirable by treasury officials and the Federal Reserve board. The present treasury financing policy is designed to avoid adding to bank deposits as far as possible.

To counteract the inflationary potentialities of the flood of government spending for arms, the treasury has determined to borrow as much as it can from individuals and nonbank corporations. However, the treasury will have to continue borrowing large sums from the banks to supplement funds obtained from nonbank sources. For this purpose, the treasury will use the usual government bonds, notes, and bills.

SHORT ROAD.

Is the Mill Creek & Mine Hill Navigation & Railroad company still operating?—J. D.

Answer: The railroad, chartered in 1829, has been operated since 1861 by the Reading company and its predecessors under a lease arrangement which provides an annual rental of $33,000 to the lessor. The road runs from Mill Creek Junction to Broad Mountain in Pennsylvania, which, with branches, covers 5.24 miles. The company's office is in Philadelphia. The road and equipment was valued at $323,045 at the end of 1940.

SHIP MACHINISTS APPROVE RETURN TO WORK TODAY

San Francisco, Cal., June 29 (AP).—CIO and AFL machinists will return to work tomorrow in 11 bay area shipyards and drydocks where vital warship and merchant marine construction has been crippled since May 10.

Six hundred CIO machinists in Oakland voted unanimously today to stand by their earlier decision to end their strike. James P. Smith, business agent, said the men would work under conditions specified in a coast-wide master contract for the shipbuilding industry pending further negotiations.

Subway Pact Ratified.

New York, June 29 (AP).—The joint executive committee of the Transport Workers union [CIO] tonight ratified the agreement by which a threatened subway strike was averted and paved the way for resumption of negotiations between the union and the city board of transportation for an adjustment in wages and hours of some 32,000 transit workers.

Call Auto Worker Strike.

Port Huron, Mich., June 29 (AP).—The United Automobile Workers [AFL] tonight called a strike at the wire division of the Electric Auto Lite corporation, which holds orders for the navy. The union demands a 10 cent pay raise and other benefits.

Authorize Strike Vote.

Cleveland, O., June 29 (AP).—The CIO's United Automobile workers at the White Motor company today authorized the taking of a strike vote Wednesday. A wage increase is asked.

CHICAGO, MIAMI TRAIN TRAVEL TOPS FORECASTS

Fast Service Brings 60 Pct. Increase.

Travel on the streamlined de luxe all coach trains running between Chicago and Miami is continuing at a rate better than was expected when it was decided to extend operations thru the summer months, officials of the three Chicago roads taking part in the service said yesterday.

The roads are the Illinois Central with the City of Miami, the Chicago and Eastern Illinois with the Dixie Flagler and the Pennsylvania with the South Wind. All three trains were placed in operation on a 29½ hour schedule last December after the need for fast service had long been stressed. At first it was planned to run them only thru the winter months but the trains have been so successful it was decided to keep them in operation the year 'round.

Reports 50 Per Cent Gain.

"Travel on the City of Miami is about 50 per cent greater than we expected," J. V. Lanigan, passenger traffic manager of the Illinois Central, commented. "Fast, modern service between Chicago and Florida was accepted during the winter season in a remarkable manner. Rail travel on all roads increased more than 60 per cent as a result of the installation of fast streamlined service."

The City of Miami has averaged 152 passengers northbound and 97 southbound during June, the road reported. The numbers include intermediate as well as thru passengers. During the period Dec. 17 thru May 31 it carried an average of 123 thru passengers on each trip.

H. R. Sampson, general passenger agent of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, reported that the Dixie Flagler in May averaged 106 passengers southbound and 117 northbound and to date in June has averaged 123 southbound and 125 northbound.

Sampson said that the trend during the last few weeks has been upward and found indications that there will be a continued improvement in the business.

The Pennsylvania reported that the South Wind averaged 187 passengers southbound and 284 northbound during June. On one northbound trip it carried 347 passengers, on another 340 and on a third 307. The largest southbound movement was 280 passengers.

Each of the three trains leaves Chicago every third day, so that there is daily high speed service between Chicago and Miami. The roads are endeavoring to increase summer travel to Miami by detailing that city's attractions for the summer visitor.

PRIORITIES RULE MAY BE PLACED ON HOME BUILDER

Atlanta, Ga., June 29 (AP).—The man who plans to build his own home shortly may come into direct contact with armament priorities, Charles F. Palmer, coördinator of defense housing, said today.

Disclosing plans for restrictions, similar but more liberal than those imposed during the World war, Palmer said expected acute shortage of building materials in armament areas would require contractors to obtain permits from the housing coördinator or his field agents.

Listed among items likely to be rationed to builders were aluminum, bronze, copper, nickel, zinc, and certain types of lumber. Palmer said contractors already found it difficult to obtain metal gutters.

14.8 PCT. GAIN IN RAIL FREIGHT LOAD INDICATED

All Districts Set Car Needs Higher.

An increase of 14.8 per cent in freight car loadings in the third quarter of 1941 over those in the corresponding 1940 period was indicated yesterday in a compilation made by 13 shippers' advisory boards.

The total loadings of the 29 principal commodities were estimated at 7,272,955 cars in the quarter, compared with 6,337,841 a year earlier. All the 13 boards predicted gains for their districts, the Ohio valley region expecting 25.3 per cent.

Midwest Gain Estimated.

The midwest area, including Chicago, had previously reported its estimate of 959,762 cars, against an actual 859,986 in the third quarter last year for a gain of 11.6 per cent.

Among the commodities for which the biggest national increases are expected are automobiles, trucks, and parts, 54.9 per cent; machinery and boilers, 31.8 per cent; agricultural implements and vehicles other than automobiles, 25.6 per cent; chemicals and explosives, 25.2 per cent.

Comparison of Figures.

Old Argument Is On!

June 29, 1941.

THE men at the Du Page county farm have been arguing a question that comes up each year when the corn is being cultivated. It involves the relative merits of the drilling and the checking methods of planting seed.

When corn is planted by the drilling process it can be cultivated in only one way—straight up and down each row. When corn is planted by the checking method, it can be cultivated up and down the rows or across the rows, the hills in which the corn is planted being so symmetrically spaced from row to row that the cultivator can go up and down the field, cross the field from one side to the other, or crisscross it diagonally.

The "check" system of planting gets its name from the fact that the hills in which the corn is planted are laid out like a checkerboard. Each row is a certain distance apart. And each hill in each row is the same distance apart, or, if desired, the distance between the hills may be half the distance between the rows, just so long as the symmetry is preserved. In "checking" corn the farmer uses the same "check wire" in planting each row. As the planter runs down this wire it drops seeds each time it comes to one of the evenly spaced balls. Thus the hills of each successive row are ketp in alignment.

"Drilled" Hills Closer.

In drilling corn, the rows are the same distance apart but the hills of each row are much closed together—generally only 5 to 10 inches apart, according to how the planter is set. This closer spacing is possible because the cultivator never has to run across the field. In this type of planting no "check wire" is used; no attempt at crossfield symmetry is made.

Many farmers maintain that checking is the only way to plant corn, and most of the fields in the corn belt are planted that way. Checked corn is easily cultivated, and affords a better chance of keeping the field clean as weeds that grow up between the hills can be cultivated out. This is not possible when the corn is drilled.

Drilled corn, altho it cannot be cultivated both ways, has the edge over the checked plants in that more corn can be planted to the acre. Thus growing space in a field is better utilized, and higher yields per acre are obtained.

A common practice among many farmers is to check the field corn they expect to harvest, and drill the corn they are going to use for silease. The drilled corn produces more plants to the acre, and thus makes more green fodder for ensiling.

Farm Manager Speaks.

The corn at the farm is drilled. The manager believes that he obtains better quality corn with this method. Also he realizes larger yields from his fields than he would if the corn had been checked. He has found that checked corn bunches up too much in one small space.

Data issued by various experimental stations support both methods of planting, and there does not seem to be any great difference between the two. They both have their good and bad points, and the final deciding factor seems to be the weather.

When there is good corn weather and the fields can be gone over frequently, the drilling method produces the best results. When there has been a lot of rain and the weeds have gotten a start, the farmer who checked his corn has the advantage. He is able to cross cultivate his field and keep it cleaner than those that were drilled.

A new hay baler has been purchased for the farm that will save a lot of work and hay. It is the pick up type that travels behind the tractor picking up the hay and forcing it into bales. It turns out a bale of hay with sliced sections that make the hay much easier to handle and tear apart for feeding. How the machine operates will be described in a future column.

Employers Still Can Save on Job Insurance Levy

Martin P. Durkin, state director of labor, said yesterday that employers who owe 1940 contributions under the Illinois unemployment compensation act have a final opportunity to save money. Employers paying delinquencies with interest by today will be permitted to offset 90 per cent of the amount paid against the 3 per cent pay roll levy due the federal government for unemployment compensation. If not paid today full state and federal amounts are due.

Interior Department Power Expansion Plans Disclosed

Washington, D. C., June 29 [Special.]—The department of interior will add more than 500,000 kilowatts of electric capacity within the next six months in the west, Harold L. Ickes, secretary, announced today. Power plants operating under the department's jurisdiction will have a capacity of 1,670,000 kilowatts by Jan. 1, and by August of 1942 the total capacity of the ... will approximate 2,000,000 kilowatts, he said.

Serious Worker Shortage Is Reported in Some Lines

Washington, D. C., June 29 (AP).—A serious shortage of shipbuilding, aircraft, and machine shop workers was reported today by Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator. Announcing the results of a survey by the bureau of employment security, McNutt said that of 394 occupations studied there were 78 in which the number of workers registered with state employment offices was insufficient to fill jobs now open.

WORKERS SHIFT JOBS RAPIDLY AS WAGES RISE

Workers leaving jobs for others at higher wages were responsible for 42 per cent of employment turnover during May in the Chicagoland area, a survey released by Gordon L. Hostetter, director of the Employers' Association of Chicago, disclosed yesterday.

An analysis of the survey, Hostetter said, confirms the fact that small businesses are not only handicapped by material priorities while failing to receive armament subcontracts, but are suffering acutely from the loss of workers to larger companies. A continuation of the trend may be expected to produce a serious economic dislocation in the area, he added.

The survey disclosed an employment turnover of 6.1 per cent during May, on the basis of 209 establishments taken as a representative sample.

People and Events

Election of Charles B. Henderson to the chairmanship of the Reconstruction Finance corporation was announced yesterday by the board of directors. He will succeed Emil Schram, who resigned to become president of the New York Stock exchange. Henderson, a member of the RFC board since 1934, is a Nevada Democrat who represented his state in the senate from 1918 to 1921.

Charles B. Henderson.

The brokerage firm of Norris & Kenly will move from 208 South La Salle street on July 1 to the Rookery building.

UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY

Young women, 25 to 40, of exceptional appearance, who are leaders in their respective communities, to select and qualify children for a musical education. Prior sales experience unnecessary, as we will train you intensively. Splendid opportunity for a permanent and profitable connection, with a liberal draw and commissions. We also can use a few school teachers who are seeking to augment their earnings during the vacation period. You may call in person at our personnel office between 10-12 a. m. and 3-5 p. m., or write to Chicago Musical Inst., 309 S. Wabash.

OUR GROWING BUSINESS IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY.
If you are over 25, ambitious, with good references, we can place you in a well-paying position at once. No sales exper. nec. as we train you in modern merchandising, close your sales for you, furnish you leads, drawing account, full co-operation and pay liberal comm. . . . If you are willing to work and follow instructions, here is your opportunity to make a permanent, good income connection with an old, reliable, successful firm.

VACATION LOANS

Really enjoy your vacation this year. Take along plenty of cash for those "side" trips and other extra expenses that always go with a truly complete vacation trip. You can get the cash from us and repay it the very day you return if you wish. $50, for instance costs only $1.25 for 30 days and you pay interest only for the time you actually keep the money.

Certainly that is cheap insurance against running short of money in some out-of-the-way place. Just stop in or phone and let us explain how simple it is to get a vacation loan at Commonwealth.
